Saba Is Appointed Planner

Stanley Saba, 144 Lovejoy Road, has been appointed to the planning Board by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, with the approval of the selectmen.

Saba, will fill the term left vacant by former Chairman Harold T. King, who resigned.

The term of the new member will run through April, 1975.

A graduate of Merrimack College where he majored in business administration, Saba has been active in municipal affairs for some time.

He served on the executive board of the Merrimack Valley Association for Children With Learning Disabilities, and served on the town meeting study committee chaired by Atty. William Dalton.

Saba is a member of the board of directors of the Plains Community, Lawrence, and has served on the United Fund of Greater Boston and the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

He is a senior account executive of the firm of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

School Budget Up Over 5 Million

The school department submitted an 18-month school budget estimate of $12,960,000, to Town Manager Maynard Austin Friday. School salaries were estimated at $10,400,000 and the expense portion of the budget at $2,560,000.

The 18-month estimate is nearly $6 million, or more than 80%, higher than the current year's 12-month budget of $7,081,- 101.

Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert told Austin that the estimate of the needs of the school system will be pared down to a more precise final figure as it undergoes financial refinement with the school and finance committees who are already cooperating on budget review.

But Siefert warned that the final school budget will not be able to be pared down to 150% of a 12-month budget, as one might hope, since over two-thirds of the school's year's spending falls into the January-June half of the year, which comes twice in this year's 18-month budget, designed to bring the town's fiscal year in line with that of the state.

An example of the uneven spending cycles, according to Ed Weil, the new business manager, is the electric lighting and heating bill at the high school. Weil pointed out that the February high school electric bill this year was almost $9,000, while the September bill was less than $1,400. Unfortunately, there are two Februaries in the 18-month budget, and only one September. Weil points out that having two January-June segments of the year almost doubles these bills, since most of the heating bills come in the winter-spring half of the year, not the summer-fall half.

WINTER. Snow and rain combined to create this scene in West Andover Monday and Tuesday. The first storm of the season caused a number of accidents, but public works department crews had the roads clear and ready for school traffic on Tuesday. Power losses in several areas of town, particularly Ballardvale, were caused by the heavy, wet snow cutting power lines.

Marijuana Delivery Halted

Through co-operative efforts of Phillips Academy officials and postal inspectors, Andover police have seized 914 envelopes containing marijuana mailed to students at the academy.

Sgt. Robert Parker of the police detective division reported that much of the marijuana was unsolicited by the students to whom it was sent.

Sgt. Parker said that his department and the postal inspectors who assisted, have a good lead on the source who forwarded the envelopes to the academy and the investigation of the matter is continuing.

The police official, with Det. Donald Mooers, and Inspector Hale of the U.S. Postal Service obtained federal warrants to ACCIDENT SCENE. Clerk of the Works Al Guerin examines hatchway at Water Treatment plant construction site where Methuen man was fatally injured Tuesday.

A Methuen man was fatally injured early Tuesday when he fell through a hatchway at the new water treatment plant under construction at Haggetts pond.

Domenic M. Izzi, 57, 45 Newbury Ave., Methuen, was on his first day at the job, employed as an iron worker. Officials on the scene said that he fell through a hatchway some 20 feet. Workmen went to his aid but found him lying face down in water at the bottom of hatchway.

Andover fire department ambulance was called to the scene about 10 a.m. and took the victim to Lawrence General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Born in Lawrence, he was educated in public schools and was employed as a steel worker.

He was a member of St. Lucy's Church, the Italian American Toilers, Construction Union 351, and Order of Sons of Italy 902.

Surviving are his wife Mary (Patti) of Lawrence; two sons, Phillip of Salem, N.H., Domenic, Jr. of Methuen; a daughter, Anna of Methuen; four brothers, Harry Izzy of Methuen, Armand Izzy of Salem, N.H., Carl Izzy of Methuen, and Mario Izzy of Lawrence; two sisters, Dorothy Allen of Methuen, and Jennie, wife of Alfred Perry of Haverhill; and two grandchildren.

To Greet Santa Sunday

Santa Claus will not only come to Andover on Sunday, Dec. 10, for a welcome by the town, but he will make up for his week's postponement by bringing Mrs. Santa Claus with him.

The Santa Claus Parade will begin at 2 p.m. for the delight of Andover youngsters, and proceed north on Main Street.

Santa's ceremonial arrival in the annual parade and festivities conducted by the Andover Fire Department has been rescheduled to this Sunday afternoon, and Parade Chairman Robert Demers promises a line of gala floats, punctuated by the music of a number of brightly uniformed bands who are joining the parade.

The Fire Department again is being assisted by the Andover Chamber of Commerce in planning the event, which annually lines the parade route with excited youngsters, from Bartlett Street to Punchard, and up Main Street to the Shawsheen Shopping Plaza, final destination of the parade.

Bad weather two week ago forced a postponement of Santa's Lawrence welcome to last Sunday, when he had originally planned to sleigh on down to Andover. This week, closer to Christmas, has brought a snow blanket which makes Andover look more like the North Pole.

Children will recognize favorite cartoon characters in the parade, and be entertained by plenty of clowns along the route. The Andona Society will bring its clowns, Chairman Demers said, and the South Lawrence Associates will bring their costumed motley characters. Demers also expects a good response from the schools, and other groups which are making floats or marching in uniform.

The Andover High School band will march and play, and a musical unit from Phillips Academy plans to be on hand. The Danvers Blue Angels and the Wilmington Crusaders are also joining the line of march, along with town officials and a number of local groups.

Chairman Demers asks participants to be at East Junior High School to get in formation at 1:15 p.m., so be ready for the parade to start at 2 p.m.

An Observer From England

By Helen M. Eccles

A British visitor is spending two weeks in Andover, gathering information to take back to his home office.

The observer, Anthony C. Harland, was a cloak and dagger man in Burma for the British Army, during World War II - one of his qualifications may have been his very unassuming manner.

But this time around, he will take his observations back to England not to the secret service, but to the Church of England. After the cloak and dagger work, Harland spent a number of years in industry, which took him to Africa, then changed careers to work for the Church of England.

This mission began with his bishop saying "Tony, old boy, you need a rest. We're going to send you on a trip," which, Harland says, made him wonder if the church didn't need a rest from him! He has been, since 1961, in charge of Christian Stewardship for the 658 parishes of the Diocese of Oxford - which holds the greatest number of parishes in England. Along with his noticeably British cut of collar and suit, Mr. Harland fairly sparkles with the equally attractive British gift for self-deprecatory wit.

To wit: Among other things, Anthony Harland was instrumental in starting FISH, the emergency service for people helping other people in trouble. Since FISH began in the parish of Headington, in his diocese of Oxford, the program has spread to communities in Europe, Africa, Australia and the United States, including Andover.

In our Andover community, persons needing help can call 475-1804 to obtain emergency meals, transportation, care for children of a hospitalized mother, or whatever is needed on a temporary basis. Headington Parish began FISH out of a concern for people who were isolated, often foreign students studying at Oxford, who had no one to turn to when they were lonely or in trouble. As the FISH program extended to other communities, the Diocese of Oxford took over sponsorship, and the rest of the world gets help on how to start FISH in their community by writing to Mr. Harland, who helped start the first FISH program.

But back to the unfolding of the bishop's plan for "Tony, old boy." He was to visit the United States, go to one parish chosen out of the thousands in the American Episcopal Church. He was to stay for several weeks and investigate all aspects of that church's parish life, especially those relating to Christian stewardship. He was to compare their problems and solutions with those in the parishes in the Oxford Diocese, get ideas and, he says, "bring back encouraging word." Not only his diocese, but the central office of the Church of England became interested in the mission and joined in sponsoring the trip.

BRITISH CHURCHMAN Anthony Harland and Christ Church's Rev. J. Edison Pike view the grave of Abraham Marland, a poor immigrant from England who kept a pledge to his mother by founding Christ Church in 1835.

The United States parish chosen was Christ Church, Andover, Massachusetts, and Harland says this was not at all by accident, but by its record as an active parish.

Rev. J. Edison Pike and his wife, Louise, have welcomed Anthony Harland into their parish and their home. With their help, he is delving into the records, figures ("figgers," to an Englishman), every member canvass methods, Christian education, church groups, music and all other activities of Christ Church's parish life.

Harland says "Christ Church, Andover, is a very active and vigorous church, with a close sense of community. I'm tremendously impressed."

Harland is also getting the feel of an American town and American culture on his first visit to this country, finding similarities and contrasts.

"The overwhelming thing," the Briton churchman told the TOWNSMAN, "is that people here are much more extroverted and immediately friendly, much more so than in Britain, where you have that knack of the British reserve."

"Among the differences between our countries right now, I'd say, is that ours appears to be a much more permissive society, and I don't say that happily. We are the abortion capital of the world, just now, you know. And our commercial TV which runs side by side with the BBC, has more bedroom scenes, swearing, obscenity, which are objectionable when you think they are shown in homes to captive audiences, many of them quite young." Violence on TV, however, doesn't seem to have reached the level where it is objectionable, as it has in the United States.

"Another difference is that the state doesn't reach into your lives as much as it does in ours. Pensions, welfare and the law are standard throughout the commonwealth, where they are not here." When a person's income is down to a certain minimum in Britain, Harland explained, that person is automatically qualified for a Government grant. There is also immediate relief for someone who is unemployed, and even relief for striking workers. Harland commented that one of the differences in the two countries is that British unions are much more powerful than they seem to be in the United States.

The visitor to Christ Church describes the three great perplexing issues of British life right now as immigration, inflation and union power - labor and the industrial scene. They divide the nation, he says, sometimes in different ways.

In his week here, the Pikes have taken Mr. Harland to Maine, to factories in Haverhill and to Plimoth Plantation. On a trip to Boston to the Episcopal diocesan headquarters, he tramped the Freedom Trail. (In response to one American's remark that British didn't make good coffee, the Britisher replied that "American tea isn't all that good either, probably because it's been dumped into seawater beforehand.")

In Andover, Harland has met with the Christ Church vestry, the finance committee, the group dynamics course taught by the rector and director of religious education, Barbara Platt. He has visited Turning Point, and heard about the young people's Project Care Hotline. In England, he explains, a similar service, Samaritan, is on a national basis, runs 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Mr. Harland is visiting Andover's public schools, and Phillips Academy, its shops and stores, to take back an impression of the Andover where a poor boy from England once came, after promising his mother that if he were successful, he would found a church "of her persuasion." After Abraham Marland became successful and founded the Marland Mills in Andover, he founded Christ Church in 1835 as he had promised his mother.

Christ Church's rector, Rev. Mr. Pike, speaks of Anthony Harland as "a kindred soul. I'm having a great time having him here." To the Rev. Pike, opening the records and activities of Christ Church to this colleague from the Church of England is rendering an account of stewardship since the time Abraham Marland kept his promise to his mother and founded Christ Church in Andover.

Students Develop New Course

By Susan E. Beroz

This year the School Committee of Andover and students from the high school are meeting together to discuss the improvement of secondary education in this town.

The Student Advisory Board is composed of five representatives elected at the end of the '71 - '72 school year. The chairman is Steve Alexander and the other members include Meredith Moody, Carnell Cooper, Dave Sweetser and Buddy Edelstein.

The committee was formed in accordance with a newly passed state law in order to "advise the school committee of any situations which the students feel need their attention."

The meetings are once every month with the school committee, however numerous meetings are held between the board members themselves.

After two official meetings, a new school course has been devised for those students who are dissatisfied with the present academic program. This course will be fashioned after the Internship program in which individuals in the community will be asked to work with students on a career-oriented job; therefore making education more relevant to the working world.

Credit will be given and the amount will depend on such factors as the number of working hours and the quality of the work done. This course will not hold more units than any regular subject when counting the 16 units to graduate. The state requirements of four years of English and one year of American History can not be neglected in place of this program.

The apprenticeship is done during school hours and a contract must be signed containing all the details. It is a pass-fail course and attendance is mandatory. The students must provide their own transportation and all seniors, juniors and sophomores after the second half of the year are eligible.

The student will receive no salary for the work he does. However he will have a trial period at his job before the signing of his contract. The period of time that the program is in progress is up to the individual student and then written in his contract.

As the program progresses an advisor will be needed.

Hopefully this program will start at the beginning of the second semester.

Tea Planned

The B and M Bluebirds, who meet at the home of Mrs. David Blair, Enfield Drive, are planning a Mother and Grandmothers Christmas tea, to be held Wednesday, Dec. 13.

The group has prepared cookies and various other snacks for their guests, and have prepared invitations and gifts in anticipation of the event.

The girls also plan to donate toys to GLEAM in Lawrence.

Included in the group are Jana Caldwell, Mary Beth Foote, Elizabeth Higgins, Jeanne Blair, Marie Meckel, Karen Saalfrank, Donna Jenkins, Dianne Serley, Melissa Wilber and Elyn Stear.

Students Studying Andover

The Junior High students of St. Augustine's School are doing research on Andover, under the direction of Sister Estelle Dion, S.N.D.

Each student has chosen his or her own area of study. Some of these topics include the historical background of the Indians, the early settlers and such historic sites as Phillips and Abbot Academies, Memorial Hall Library, the Andover TOWNSMAN, Shawsheen Village, Ballardvale, North Andover, schools, industries, churches, the fire and police departments, architecture, and underground railroad, and recreation areas of Andover.

This project will cover a period of three months. Presently the students are on Phase I, which consists of four to six weeks of research in these areas.

William Doherty has greatly assisted the students by giving two interesting talks, and answering the students' questions on Andover - past and present.

Some people who have thoughtfully given their time for interviews are Mr. Redman of Redman's Card and Clothing Co., Sid White, former selectman of Andover, Jason Wright from the Personnel Department at Raytheon, Patrolman Richard Aumais of the police department and Lt. Theodore Sutton of the fire department.

Through this study the students hope to acquire a better understanding of Andover.

Passione), adagio, allegro, menuet and presto movements. J. Michael Bostwick will be soloist for the Karl Stamitz' Concerto for Clarinet in B flat major, allegro moderato, romanze and rondo movements.

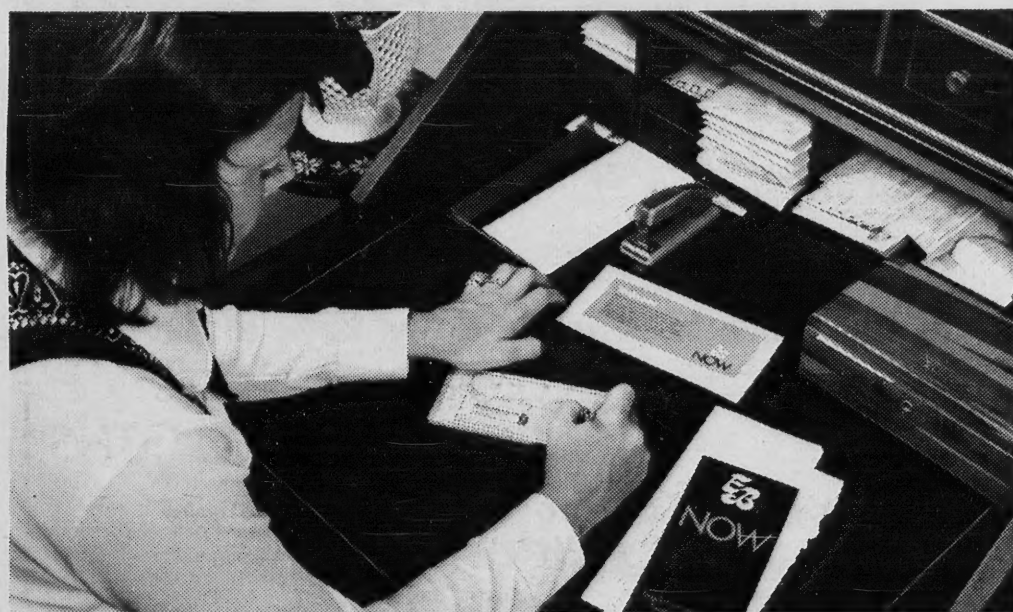

William B. Clift Jr. will conduct the Symphonic Band in Marche Militaire Francaise from the Algerian Suite, Alleluia from "Exultate, jubilate" Motet, excerpts from Die Meistersinger, Highlights from "Fiddler on the Roof," and The Christmas Party.

There will be no charge for admission, and the public is invited to attend.

Academy Music Dep't. In Concert

The Music Department of Phillips Academy will present the Phillips Academy Chamber Orchestra and the Symphonic Band in a concert on Friday evening, December 8th, at 8:15 in George Washington Hall.

Mr. DeWitt Thornton will conduct the Chamber Orchestra in Haydn's Symphony No. 49 (La

Mrs. A.

Boston Bruins Chief, Bucyk, General Chairman of Northeast Chapter of Massachusetts Heart Association's 1973 Heart Campaign, today announced appointment of Mrs. Theresa Manzi Amore, of Son Lawrence, as Chairman of Region II - West Sector. Amore will in turn appoint community chairmen within area, which includes communities of: Merrimack, Andover, North Andover and Reading.

Mrs. Amore makes her first trip with her daughter, Frances Michelle, a Junior at Wildrose College, on Wildrose Road, Andover.

A long-time friend of the Heart Association, she has served as the Chairman of the 1970 Andover Heart Fund Campaign and is bringing her valuable experience to the Board of Directors. She is currently serving as a member of the Executive Committee of the Campaign Advisory Committee of the Northeast Chapter of the Massachusetts Heart Association.

Mrs. Amore attended University of Emerson Speech and Hearing Institute. She is a member of the Democratic Women's Merrimack Valley Emblem Club.

Professionally she is Secretary of the Executives of Merrimack County, Secretary of the Massachusetts Hearing Aid Society and Membership Committee of the National Society of Hearing Audiologists. She is also with the Hearing Clinic at Augustine School, Andover. She was picked for 2000 Worcester Achievement, 4th Anniversary, 1972; is listed in the 1973 edition of the Merrimack Encyclopedia, Who's Who in American Women, "Business Executive, Consultant," and has received several awards for outstanding performance and devotion by Sonotone Company, Elmsford, New York, being in business from 1965 to present.

In announcing the appointment of Mrs. Theresa Manzi Amore, John Bucyk said, "Working with the Heart Association is very important to me and to my family. Mrs. Amore is a very busy person like Mrs. Amore, who is so much of herself in the Heart Association, voluntary health agency devoted solely to the eradication of heart disease."

Mrs. Amore Heart Fund Chairman

Boston Bruins Chief, John Bucyk, General Chairman of the Northeast Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association's 1973 Heart Fund Campaign, today announced the appointment of Mrs. Theresa Manzi Amore, of Sonotone, Lawrence, as Chairman of the Region II - West Sector. Mrs. Amore will in turn appoint the community chairmen within her area, which includes the communities of: Methuen, Lawrence, Andover, Reading, North Andover and North Reading.

Mrs. Amore makes her home with her daughter, Francine Michelle, a Junior at Wheaton College, on Wildrose Drive, Andover.

A long-time friend of Heart, she has served as the General Chairman of the 1970 and 1971 Andover Heart Fund Campaign, Sector Chairman of the 1972 Campaign and is bringing this valuable experience to the Chairmen in her sector. She is presently serving as a member of the Board of Directors, Executive Committee and the Campaign Advisory Committee, Northeast Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association.

Mrs. Amore attended Boston University and Emerson College Speech and Hearing Institute. She is a member of the Democratic Women of the Merrimack Valley and the Emblem Club.

Professionally she is the Secretary of the Sales Executives of Merrimack Valley, Secretary of the Massachusetts Hearing Aid Society and is on the Membership Committee of the National Society of Hearing Aid Audiologists. She is affiliated with the Hearing Clinic of the St. Augustine School, Andover; was picked for 2000 Women of Achievement, 4th Annual Edition, 1972; is listed in the 8th Edition of the Marquis Encyclopedia, Who's Who of American Women, under "Business Executive, Hearing Consultant," and has been the recipient of several awards for outstanding performance and devotion by Sonotone Corporation, Elmsford, New York, since being in business from 1954 to the present.

In announcing the appointment of Mrs. Theresa Manzi Amore, John Bucyk said, "Working with the Heart Association has been very important to me when I see busy people like Mrs. Amore give so much of themselves to the Heart Association, the only voluntary health agency that is devoted solely to the eradication of diseases of the heart and blood vessels. Their dedication to their fellow man is super, and I am very pleased to have them on our team."

The Heart Fund Campaign begins on February 1 and culminates on February 25, Heart Sunday, when thousands of volunteers will call on their neighbors and distribute lifesaving information and receive contributions for the Heart Association. Funds raised as a result of this campaign will be utilized to support the many programs of the Northeast Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association, including: research, physician education, nursing education, stroke, cardiopulmonary resuscitation courses for chapter fire, police and rescue squad personnel, public information and education, and school health education.

The March 20, 1936 TOWNSMAN stated: "Because of the failure of the power supply due to the flood, today's TOWNSMAN had to be printed by hand."

At Schaefer Stadium it's a whole new ball game.

When you plug in a place like Schaefer Stadium, it's a whole lot different than flipping on the family television set. It takes a powerful lot of energy.

The new home of the New England Patriots professional football team in Foxboro, Massachusetts used 1.8 million kilowatt hours during its first year.

That's enough to run all the lights, refrigerators, ranges, washers, dryers and other appliances in 360 homes for a whole year!

New construction like this will mean new additions for us, too, if we are to provide the kind of facilities it will take to meet these growing demands and satisfy our mutual environmental concerns. Like we say, it's a whole new ball game... and it will take teamwork to win it.

People like you working to make life a little better.

SUMMIT. WE'RE ONE UP IN NIKON CAMERAS AND VIVITAR FLASH UNITS.

The Nikon F2 Photomic

Vivitar 201

Nikon research has produced another major advance in their unique system. The Nikon F2 Photomic, featuring a newly designed shutter with precision speeds from 10 seconds to 1/2000th of a second. An ingeniously compact accessory servo EE system for automatic exposure control. A fully interchangeable motor drive system. A new rounded lens mount to make lens changing easy. A shutter release button located farther forward on the machine so your trigger finger rests naturally. And many more innovations, styled for expert picturetaking and comfortable, convenient handling.

Precision scientific and human engineering have combined to produce what is being called the most uncannily responsive camera in the world. And it's here, at Summit, at a very special low Summit price.

And when you're here inspecting the new Photomic, don't forget the times, particularly like Christmas morning, when flashbulbs inevitably fail. Times like these are too important to leave at the risk of faulty flashbulbs. Make sure you get these moments on film this year by having a Vivitar 201 on hand. This powerful, completely automatic flash system features over 200 guaranteed flashes per set of batteries. And it's here, at Summit, for only $27.00.

We're one up in Nikon cameras and Vivitar Flashes because we're a whole new moneysaving way to shop and save up to 50% on cameras as well as hundreds of thousands of other items.

Jewelry, sporting goods, appliances, stereos, silverware, more than 200 different categories of merchandise, all from famous, trusted, brand name manufacturers. All on display in our attractive Warehouse/Showrooms, just minutes from your door. And all ready to take right home with you.

Stop in and pick up a copy of our million-dollar, 400-page catalog. Yours free.

And while you're here, have a look around. We're one up on everything.

And that puts you one up on this season's gift decisions.

It all started with a Brownie box camera given to her while she was in high school. Today, Katharine Knowles is a highly respected and well known photographer with nine books behind her and a new book which will be available this week.

The new book is the first volume of a two volume set on Travels in New England. The volume will use the travels of Timothy Dwight in the late 1700's as a focal point. Dwight, while mont, Maine and Massachusetts and wrote letters to an imaginary friend to record his journeys. Dwight had a keen interest in the landscape and excerpts from his letters, edited by Thea Wheelwright, will be used as a commentary for Miss Knowles' photographs.

Volume two will center on Dwight's travels during the first decade of the 1800's. Katharine Knowles visits all of the areas Dwight mentions and is careful to include all four seasons in her photographic essay. Her publisher is Barre.

(Dwight's journals are in the Steven's Memorial Library).

Katharine Knowles is a gentle, sensitive and perceptive woman and these qualities are reflected in her photographs. "I love trees and snow," she said, "and old houses and interiors." A native of North Andover, she returned to live in the town about four years ago.

Her profession "grew out of a desire to be a painter. I just switched from a brush to a lens." Like most professional photographers, Miss Knowles develops her own film. "You must develop your film according to the contrasts." She spent a "wonderful winter" at the Country School of Photography in Woodstock, Vermont to add to her self-taught knowledge of picture making.

Along with her interest in art, Miss Knowles has always loved books and has worked with book stores. Her first book was the result of a large collection of pictures she took in her spare time of Boston scenes. Walter Muir Whitehill, Curator of the Boston Athenaeum and, incidentally, another resident of North Andover, wrote the text for the book. Since then Knowles and Whitehill have collaborated on two more books.

New England is Katharine Knowles' love. "This part of the country is so beautiful and there is such variety." Her books include photographic stories on Boston, Cambridge, the Concord River, Cape Cod and the Maine Coast. "I'm a Maine-iac," she confessed. She has also published works on Houses of New England open to the Public, Boston Statues, the Connecticut shore and Greenwich Village.

Her books on Cambridge and Boston have been re-issued in a combined paper back volume because of their popularity.

Miss Knowles uses a Hasselblad camera and works with normal, wide angle, and telephoto lenses. She spends about two years to record scenes for each book, in traveling, taking innumerable shots and developing the film.

As a photographic recorder of New England, Katharine Knowles combines a fine and sensitive eye with a genuine love of the landscape. Top that with her great ability in developing and perfecting her pictures, and you have the combination that has resulted in her excellent books.

Intermediates Begin Season

Frank Monette

The Andover YMCA Basketball League got underway Saturday with practice games in the PeeWee Division and Junior Division while the Intermediate Division started their season with their first games.

The Pee Wee and Junior Divisions will begin their first regular season games next Saturday.

League Director Frank Monette is still seeking players in all Divisions with emphasis on the Intermediate Division. In this division five more players are needed to make a six team League. Any boy interested in playing must sign up at the Andover YMCA on Brook Street Andover before next Saturday.

In the Intermediate Division this week the Bullets edged out the Trailblazers 39-36. The Bullets took a 16-9 lead after one quarter of play but the Trailblazers closed the lead at the half to 20-16 Bullets still in command. By the end of the third quarter the Trailblazers had finally taken the lead by two points 30-28. In the final quarter the Bullets regained their momentum and the victory was theirs 39-36. The Bullets were led by Co-Capt. Bill Emmert's 13 points followed by teammates Co-Capt. Louis Pizzaro 8 points, Mike Witt 7 points, Brian McKew 6 points, Mark Conlon and Brendon Reilly 2 points each, Matt Mirisola 1 point and tough defense by Randy Hayman and Phillip Nardone. For the Trailblazers Co-Capt. Mitch Rousseau playing in only 2 quarters scored the game high of 16 points followed by teammates Jeff Smith 7 points, Co-Capt. Fred Rau 4 points, Jim Morin 3 points, Dave Mirisola 4 points, Jon Steen and Gary Schneider 1 point each with fine all-around play by Scott Hill, Brian Sullivan and Kevin Kenney.

In the second Intermediate contest the Celtics bombed the Knicks 67-50. The first quarter ended in a 12-12 deadlock but by the half the Celtics had taken command by a score of 36-18 and increased the lead to 61-24 entering the fourth quarter. In the fourth quarter the Knicks came to life outscoring the Celtics 26-6 but not enough to change the outcome. The Celtics were led by Co-Capt. George Bragdon 27 points, Co-Capt. Dan Billings 14 points, Scott Hammar 10 points, Rick Collins, Bruce Slovin and Matt Billings 4 points each. Carl Wetterberg and Mike Issenberg 2 points each and fine rebounding by Ray Rau and Dan Rush.

OPENING TAP. The Andover Church Basketball league got underway for another season Monday night at the East Junior High gymnasium. The opening tapoff here is between Stephen Serley and Bob Conroy, with Dennis Murphy officiating.

The Knicks were led by Co-Capt. Tom Luceri 12 points, Dana Cohen 6 points, Glen Brody and Dave Wilson 4 points each, Bob Muldoon 3 points, Tom Sambuco and Mike Wilson 2 points each with aggressive play from Phillip Nikonchuk.

Help in coaching, scoring and officiating are still needed.

Appointed Treasurer At Converse

Arthur W. Ermer of Andover, has been elected Treasurer of Converse Rubber Company, according to an announcement by Stephen A. Stone, President of Converse.

In his new position, Ermer will be responsible for financial activities including Financial Planning, Budgets, Accounts Payable, Credit and Collection, and Cash Management.

Converse Rubber Company, Malden, is the manufacturer of the famous All Star basketball shoe and a complete line of leading athletic leisure and recreational footwear. Converse athletic shoes were selected by the U.S. Olympic Committee for 20 U.S. teams at the '72 Olympics in Munich.

Converse is a subsidiary of Eltra Corporation, a diversified manufacturer of electrical, consumer, and industrial products and a supplier of commercial services. Eltra Corporation has sales in excess of $500 million annually.

Ermer, who was named to the Assistant-Treasurer post last August has held executive positions with Converse Tyer Division in Andover, and at corporate headquarters here for more than 20 years.

A graduate of Bentley College, he originally joined the company as Credit and Office Manager at Tyer.

A long-time resident of Andover, he is a Trustee and Member of the Board of Investment at the Andover Savings Bank. From 1955 to 1961 he served on a town study committee. Ermer is also a past member and director of the Andover Consumers Coop.

Active in professional organizations, Ermer is a long-time member of the National Association of Accountants and since 1959, he has held membership in the Planning Executives Institute. He is also a member of the Merrimack Valley Chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

Ermer and his wife, Ruth (Leach) live on Highland Road, Andover. The couple has two children, Candice, a teacher and Curtis, a student at Brown University, RI.

HESITATION CAN BE COSTLY

Once you put your home on the market, you have to make up your mind to move when the right offer comes. Your asking price should come pretty close to your selling price if you have priced your house realistically. The right offer may be your first offer, and if you turn it down, you may never get another as good.

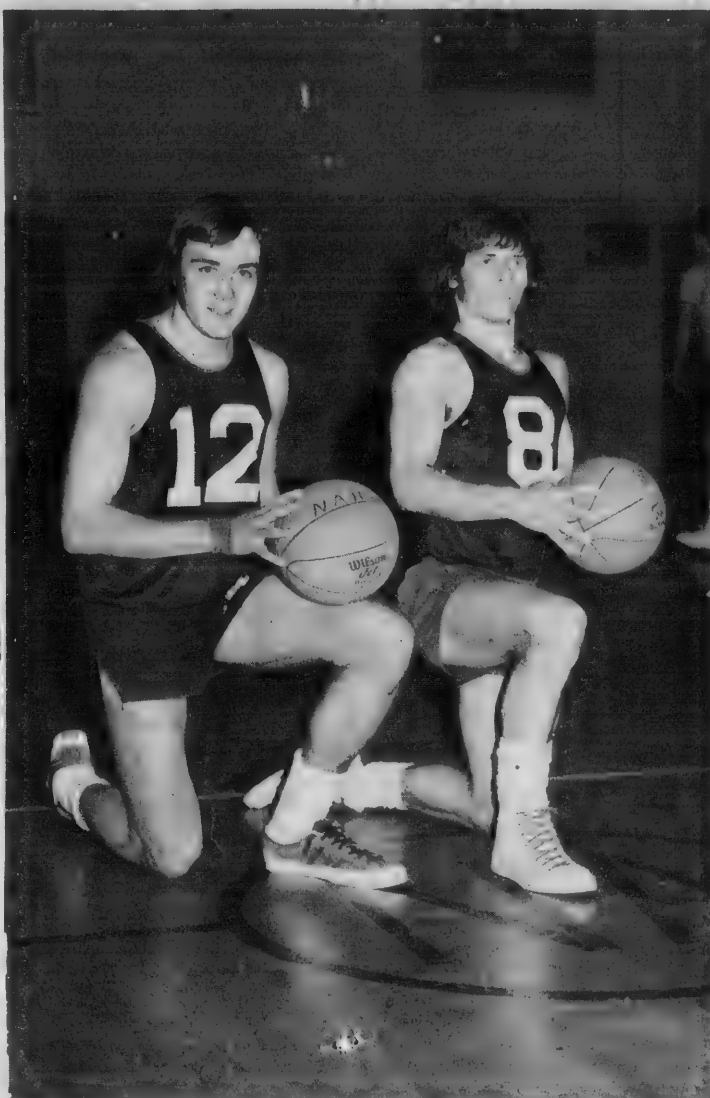

However, the offer should be a written one - the only kind that has any real significance and one on which you can depend.

Just remember that a legitimate offer should be accompanied by a good-sized check depending on the price of the house. Never accept a verbal promise and take your house off the market. The next date, a good sale may be lost if you are tied up in this type of questionable transaction. You'll never have to worry about this type of situation arising if your house is in the hands of a Realtor.

Do you have special real estate problems? Why not let us solve them! JAMES T. TREFREY, REALTOR is proud to offer you a complete real estate service. A qualified staff member is always on hand to serve you when you deal with us...and we've got over 30 years of experience! See us soon: JAMES T. TREFREY, 5 Lowell St., phone 475-0622. Kindergarten Policy To Be Changed

NORTH ANDOVER - The Family Kindergarten of North Andover voted at its recent board of directors meeting to change its policy on enrollment for next year. The program will be expanded to admit children three years, nine months and older.

A curriculum committee composed of Miss Kathleen Caligi, Mrs. Kay Woodworth, Mrs. Alison Cepikas, Kenneth Osborn, teachers Mrs. Demaris Kooker and Mrs. Betty Tuttle, and consultant Mrs. Miriam Andrews are working to make any necessary changes for next year's program.

The board also voted to keep its co-operative aspect. Under this system the parents of the attending child take an active part in their child's school experience by serving in various positions on the executive board or its committees and by assisting the teachers at the Kindergarten once or twice a month.

A group of Family Kindergarten representatives, Mrs. Nancy Melvin, Mrs. Mary Lou Kilcoyne, Mrs. Marcel Langevin, Mrs. Shirley Strobel and Mrs. Joanne Boulay recently visited the Eliot-Pearson School at Tufts University in Medford to observe their four and five-year old groups. The curriculum at Family Kindergarten is modeled after the philosophy of open education taught at Eliot-Pearson.

Others joining are Mrs. Ellen Conway, Mrs. Ann Paradis, Mrs. Ellen Kearns, Mrs. Janice Ferragamo, Edward Ferragamo and Jerry Buck, who has offered to help us out with the transportation. Mrs. Stanley Bedell, Susan Farrington, Dottie Kearns, Dorothea and Mary Ferragamo, Ellen Mary Conway, Kathleen Coughlin and Lorraine Coughlin.

The group will meet at the school hall for refreshments and hot cocoa.

New Members Pledged

Six new members were pledged into Beta Sigma Phi Sorority on Tuesday, November 28, at 8 p.m. during a candlelight ceremony at the Lanam Club Andover.

Conducting the ceremony was Mrs. John Hoelzel, president, and Mrs. Raymond Tasyler, vice president and pledge chairman.

Joining the organization are: Mrs. Eugene Schultz, Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. Robert Coppeta, Mrs. Paul Graves, Mrs. David Blair, Mrs. John Klashka.

Wooten

John Wooten, of Andover, recently completed his first year as a member of the varsity team at Northeastern University.

In his first year of competition the freshman Wooten established himself as a runner to watch. Northeastern. Aside from competing in both the 440 and 880 yard races, Wooten was also a member of the Husky mile-relay unit which was the best ever at Northeastern last season one of the best in England. This was definitely a plus for the Huskies.

The team itself was also a powerful last year as it rolled up unbeaten marks in both outdoor and indoor seasons. Wooten captured the Greater Boston New England Championship Crowns in both seasons as well. This team could be called the best ever produced at N.U. surely the most successful record was the first in the school's history.

Donate Equipment

The Lions Club has another piece of equipment to use in eye surgery at Bon Secour Hospital.

The Andover Lions like the Lions groups throughout the country devote their efforts to eye disease prevention and treatment.

The club recently presented the hospital with a Cryostat unit used in cataract removal.

Making the presentation on behalf of the membership were George Toscano, Robert C. Dr. Jorge DeNapoli and L. Homewood.

The gift was the second to the hospital in such a year.

Received Eucharist

NORTH ANDOVER - children in St. Michael's received their First Communion at Masses recently celebrated by youngsters receiving Eucharist with their parents.

The First Communion were: Philip Ricciardi, Jordan, Robert Bon Denise Melvin, Nina F. Patricia Curtin, JoAnn I. Heidi Wefers, Christine Marta Stiglis, Gina Bernadette Dubois, Gioia, Beth Moschetti, Comeau, Timothy I. This team could be called the best ever produced at N.U. It was surely the most successful as its record was the first unbeaten year ever at Northeastern and the first in six tries for Head Coach Irwin Cohen, a key factor in the Huskies rapid rise as a track power in the area.

In running up this record the Huskies faced some stiff competition. This came especially from cross-town rivals Harvard. The Crimson had been the reigning power in the area for a number of years but the Huskies beat them three times to replace them at the top and establish themselves as the best track team in the area.

Wooten has three more years of competition left with the Huskies. These teams should continue to be powerful as the teams success along with Coach Cohen's recruiting program continue to bring top high school performers to Northeastern.

Accepted At Bowdoin

By Susan E. Beroz
Two young men will be going to Bowdoin next fall. David C. Sweetser and Archie H. McLean, Jr. Both are graduating from Andover High School this year and applied to Bowdoin early decision. David and Archie thoroughly agreed that this college, located in Maine, was

"the only place for them." Archie H. McLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie H. McLean, is an ABC student and is residing in the ABC dormitory on Main Street. He originally came from Dillon, South Carolina where the rest of his family is living. At the age of 17, he is number one in the state in the 50 yard and 100 yard dashes. Archie is also a member of the soccer team.

Sports aren't his only interests. He plays the piano and the saxophone and is an avid reader. Archie is a member of the Spanish, Russian and Varsity Clubs. He was on the Homecoming Committee last fall and is a member of the Andanno yearbook staff.

Mr. McLean is a very happy young man because he is receiving a full scholarship for his first year at Bowdoin.

David C. Sweetser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Sweetser, is also an active student at AHS. Belonging to the basketball, baseball and football teams, he enjoys most sports. Skiing and hockey are his favorites out of school.

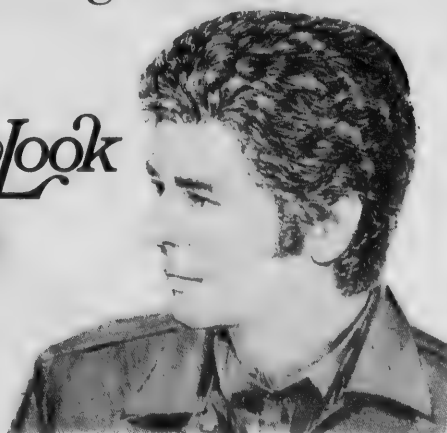

David is a member of the Varsity Club and the National Honor Society. He was also elected to the Student Advisory Board and the school Senate.

He hopes to major in political science and maybe pre-law.

Both boys enjoy the idea of a small college where a student will know most of the other students and will never be just a number. Bowdoin was the only college they wanted to go to.

Buddy Werner Ski Notes

By Carrie Smotrich

There was an executive committee meeting of the Andover Buddy Werner Ski League held on Thursday, Nov. 30. Chairman Bud Eaton welcomed the committee to the 1972-1973 season. Andover team had 125 racers in the 1971-1972 season. This year we expect more racers.

In order that all ski racers may have a chance at the championship and invitational races, the Andover skiers will be divided into (two) teams. To do this will require more parent and adult assistance.

The support and assistance on race days of the parents is needed in order to have a successful season. The committee and league greatly appreciate the willingness of parents to be out in the cold assisting as gate keepers, starters, timers, keeping tally sheets, posting race results, distributing and collecting race bibs, registrations and many other tasks to make a race run smoothly. We would be happy to train people for jobs they wish to do.

Remember to:

1. Send your registration form (correctly filled out) as soon as possible. Cut-off date: Dec. 15. Application forms are available at Dana's Sport Shop.
2. For dry run practice bring your skis if it snows to West Junior High School for gate practice. Bring your poles if it doesn't snow. (10 a.m. - 12 noon).
3. Check your ski equipment carefully!
4. Our December 11 meeting will have slide instructions on "How to run a race course."
5. Think Snow!
6. Read this column weekly.

Recreation Roundup

Media Relation To Play Is New, Exciting Course

By GARY C. RALPH

One of our new winter programs is titled "Media and the Creative World of Play."

This children's class excites me for several reasons. The class content stresses the creative use of media equipment and will strive to explore the full potential of today's media equipment. The Andover School system has a fantastic array of educational media equipment, distributed throughout nine schools. The children begin instruction in its use in the first grade and each year become more proficient in the use of more and more complex equipment.

In this particular program, fourth through sixth grades will establish their own goals, such as an entire T.V. show. There will be full utilization of all the media equipment including the video tape set. They will, with the guidance of a trained media specialist, do all the actual filming, sound work, producing, directing, acting, etc. The regular school day does not permit a great deal of time for experimentation with the school's media equipment. This program is intended to bring the full range of possibilities into perspective for the children. Today's media equipment is really only limited in use by the users' creative imagination.

Parents and teachers will be invited to view the children's projects. Effort will be made to show the educational use of the equipment. For example, the video taping of a science experiment could be replayed, stopping at critical points for further explanation by the instructor. The possibilities are almost limitless.

The details of the program will be listed in the Recreation/Community School

Department's winter brochure. If you have any questions, I hope that you will call me. I believe that this particular Recreation/Community School 19 program can add another dimension to use of our media equipment.

Exemption Deadline Is Near

The General Laws of the Commonwealth require the filing of applications for exemption of real estate taxes by disabled veterans and elderly persons on or before December 15th of each year.

Assessor William H. Russell states that veterans with at least a ten percent disability, and who were domiciled in Massachusetts either six months prior to entry in service, or five consecutive years before filing the application and who were domiciled in the property on January 1 may apply for this exemption. First year applicants must present a certificate from the Veterans Administration indicating the 10 percent or more disability.

Certain elderly persons are entitled to an exemption provided they were 70 years of age on January 1; was domiciled in Massachusetts for 10 years preceding January 1; owned and occupied such real estate as his domicile as of January 1; owned the real estate five years preceding January 1; and occupied as his domicile such real property or other real property in the Commonwealth for the preceding five years consecutively. The whole estate owned by the applicant or his spouse or by them jointly must not exceed $45,000.00. Income of the applicant in the preceding year must be less than $6,000.00; or if married the combined income must be less than $7,000.00.

Commission De Teresi Lieutenant

Second Lt. Philip A. DeTeresi, of the United States Marine Corps Reserve, was commissioned Nov. 17 after completing Officer Candidate School at Quantico, Va.

Lt. DeTeresi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeTeresi of Silver Spring, Md. and formerly of Andover.

The newly commissioned officer is the grandson of Mrs. Matteo DeTeresi, 17 Red Spring Road, Andover.

Sweepers Take Fourth Straight

Action this week in the Andover 30 and Over Basketball League found the Sweepers winning their fourth straight game in the 33 and over Division and are the only undefeated team in either division.

Capt. Jack Hammar's Sweepers will be playing a tough Dana's team next week who are in second place. The Sweepers topped a much improved and strong Strobes team by a 38-34 count this week, that went right down to the wire. The Sweepers were led by high scoring Ken Schenk who tossed in 19 points, (10 points coming in the big fourth quarter). Fred Serley backed him up with 11 points and Milt Beaudine scored four points. For the Strobes the scoring was well distributed with John Ronan scoring 8 points, Joe Carbone 7 points, Robert Marcotte 6 points, John Watkins 5 points, and Dom Nicastro 4 points.

In the second game the Dana's team remained in second place with only 1 loss this season as they out-fought a tough upset minded Pick-up's team 37-29.

Entering the final quarter the pick-ups had a slim 1 point lead 23-22 but then ran out of gas as Dana's outscored them 15-6 in the final quarter for the victory. Dana's was led by Capt. Vito Caiati's 14 points, Dennis Hughes 9 points and Wally Galvin, Les Gilbert and John Leeman 4 points apiece. The Pickups were led by Don Kramer and Gary Nevers 10 points each, Bob Cratty 5 points and Capt. Jim Caselden 4 points.

In the 19-32 year old division the big news was the Hornets upset over the first place Embassy team who had been undefeated. Co-Capt. Alan Maxwell and Eddie Freitas' Hornets were at a 16-12 deficit after the first quarter but then came back to take a 30-27 halftime lead and the game remained as a seat squirmier the rest of the way until the final minute of the game when the Hornets iced it for a 64-57 victory.

Leading the big victory was Lew Jones driving 18 points (10 of which came in the final quarter in key situations), and John Jungck 14 points, Co-Capt. Ed Freitas 12 points and Jim Earley 8 points. The Embassy was led by the high scoring Paul Twomey 24 points, Jack Swift 20 points and Art Costello 7 points. In the final game of the evening the Panthers moved into a two-way tie for first place with the Embassy with identical 3-1 records as the Panthers swamped the Drivers 79-40.

Capt. Frank Monette's Panthers will be playing the Embassy next week in one of the biggest games of the season for sole-possession of first place. The Panthers were led by Paul McGuire's 26 points, Alan Kenney 18 points, Frank Monette 13 points, Jack Pierce 10 points and Dan Shlakis 10 points.

Ski, Skate Swap and Sale Scheduled

The Family Ski Club will hold a Ski and Skate Swap Sale this Friday and Saturday, Dec. 8 and 9 at St. Theresa's Church Hall on Rte. 62 (near Kitty's) in North Reading. Anyone may bring their outgrown skates and/or ski equipment on Thursday, Dec. 7 from 6-9 p.m. or on Friday, Dec. 8 from 3-5:30 p.m. The sale will take place Friday from 7-10 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

One of the main objectives of the Family Ski Club is to help families get started skiing and skating inexpensively. The Swap Sale will enable families to sell their outgrown equipment or buy good used equipment. The Family Ski Club has a number of other activities and programs to help families or individuals enjoy more skiing.

Basketball Enthusiasts Are Sought

Attention to any boys living or attending church in Andover between the ages of 8 through 15 years old that would like to play basketball for their Church. Boys attending Christ Church, Baptist Church, Unitarian Universalist or any other church in Andover who have been unable to field a team because of a lack of players or coaches or parents participation are asked to contact Frank Monette.

Parents with emphasis on fathers are asked to accompany their son at this time instead of just dropping your boy off. It is a fact and a sorry one at that, that many boys have expressed a desire to play for their church, but because of a lack of parent interest these boys are losing out. Any boys or parents with questions or answers to this problem or further information or that wish to help may contact Frank Monette, Box 40, Beacon St.

The Andover Church League is broken into three age Divisions. Boys 8 and 9 years old make up the Junior Division. Boys ages 10-12½ make up the Intermediate Division and boys ages over 12½-15 play in the Senior Division. There are approximately 200 boys that play in the Andover Church Basketball League that is in its 26th year of existence.

Last season a Girls Basketball League was formed and has been turned over to the Recreation Dept. in care of Recreation Director Gary Ralph.

The main reason Church League Officials have not involved themselves in this area this season is because of the lack of female participation this season in the help needed to run the Girls League.

Many parents claim to be too busy to get involved, maybe they don't realize that people that are involved are on the most part very busy people also and many times even more so.

Exchange Policies Regulated

Exchanges, returns cancellations of unsatisfactory products have been the bane of many Christmas shoppers existence through the year.

In order to protect shoppers and sellers, a regulation became effective last requiring full disclosure of store's return policies to buyer before a product purchased.

Under this regulation it is considered an unfair and deceptive business practice for a store to fail to disclose these policies. In addition, it is unfair for the store to misrepresent the nature of the store's return or cancellation policy.

If the seller fails to keep promises made to a buyer in connection with refund, return or cancellation privileges, it is considered a violation of the Consumer Protection Act.

While sellers have responsibility to make return policies clear, buyers are obligated each time they purchase to be certain they are aware of the store's policy.

Before paying for or purchasing, customers should for a notice of return policy. This may be a sign posted in the cash register or a window printed on a sales slip.

Many post-holiday frustrations and disappointments can be avoided if both seller and shoppers take care to clarify terms for exchanges and returns before the purchases have been made.

Members of the Andover Chamber of Commerce are playing their gift exchange in their stores in compliance with new regulations.

Shakespearian Workshop Opens

Elizabethan wit comes to Lawrence as the Garrett Players' Shakespearian Workshop present William Shakespeare's romantic comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" this weekend at Bavarian Hall, 41 Knox St., Lawrence.

Theatregoers will have a chance to walk with the King and Queen of the fairies as they untangle a domestic dispute, pine away with Helena, whose unsought love for Demetrius leads her to unlikely places, and find cheer for Hermia and Lysander as they search for a place to fulfill their unsanctioned love.

The play begins as Demetrius, played by Doug Antoon, comes to claim his betrothed Hermia, Mary Curtin, who says she would rather die than forsake her true love Lysander, portrayed by Gordon Matthews.

Lysander and Hermia make plans to run away together and agree to meet at midnight in a wood outside of town.

Demetrius, learning of the plot from his rejected lover, Helena, Susan Wilbert, comes to the woods to confront Lysander, and claim his bride under Athenian law, doggedly followed by his devoted Helena.

Little do they all realize that very woods is the bed chamber of Titania, Queen of the fairies, played by Jean Barrile, who is at odds with her King, Bob Colter, over a young concubine she has imported from India.

Shakespeare then presents a motley theatre troupe led by Bottom the Weaver, Wayne Gervais, who have come to the woods to rehearse in secret a new play.

These three elements of the play become one with the devilry wrought by the mischievous, sprite Puck, played by Jimmy Voisine, who puts a magical aphrodisiac into all the wrong eyes, with comical results. Somehow it all ends happily with the presentation of the down troupe tragedy before the Duke of Athens, Chuck Wilder, and his bride, Hippolyta, Queen of the Amazons, portrayed by Joni McGinness. Other members of the cast include Jon Fionte, Tim LaFontaine, Cynthia Lueders, Warren Manzi, Jack Neary, Sharon Montella, Steve Kimball, Diane Montella, and John Timmons.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" is an offering of the Garrett Shakespearian Workshop directed by John Timmons. It has been functioning since this summer and is being conducted as an experiment in theatre. Other Shakespearian plans have been studied over this period. Anyone may join the Workshop at a nominal cost of $5.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" has been cut to accommodate the modern audience's impatience in long Elizabethan discourses, but still manages to retain all of the original vitality.

The play will be presented on Dec. 8, 9, 10, 15, 16 and 17. Curtain goes up at 8:30 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays, and at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday.

The Railway Labor Act, passed on May 20, 1926, required employers to bargain collectively and not discriminate against their employees for joining a union.

Seero, Farnham Duo To Play Different Tune

By RICK HARRISON
For two months it was Seero to Farnham . . . and for the next three months it's more likely to be Farnham to Seero!
The football season has ended and the hockey season is on hand, and here's where Scott Seero and Bob Farnham pull the old switcheroo.
On the gridiron Seero pitched

passes with uncanny accuracy and devastating consistency to Farnham. On the ice Farnham is generally the playmaker, setting up linemate Seero for the scoring opportunities.

But any way you slice it the end result is points on the board for the Golden Warriors.

Coach Dick Valle's hockey team will begin its season this Saturday afternoon at 12:30 p.m., meeting arch-rival Billerica in a two-period "game" to open the ninth annual Merrimack Valley Hockey League Jamboree.

The game will consist of two 12-minute periods, and it should be an interesting match-up because Andover and Billerica have been tabbed as the teams to beat this season in the MVHL.

But back to football for a few minutes . . .

AHS Head Coach Dick Collins recently released the final Andover football statistics for the 1972 season, and they are only more proof that Seero and Farnham deserve the All-Scholastic honors they were accorded earlier this week by both Boston newspapers.

Let's start with scoring:

Farnham led both Andover and the entire Greater-Lawrence area in points with 15 touchdowns and two extra points for 92 total markers. He scored in every game, six times snaring two TD passes in the same contest.

Seero was second in points with 73, including eight TD runs and 25-of-33 conversion attempts.

Joe Tisbert and Bob McCarthy notched 18 points apiece for the Golden Warriors. Artie Demoulas and George Stedman had 12 points each. Dave and Mark Sweetser joined Noel with six points, and sophomore Steve Fabiani caught a conversion pass for two points.

In the passing department, Seero hit on 85-of-177 passes for a 49 per cent completion average. Included were 19 touchdown tosses and a total yardage figure of 1,573 or just short of a mile through the air.

Seero was intercepted nine times during the season, or an average of once per game.

Sophomore Jeff Winters, a strong contender to take over Seero's spot in 1973, connected on 2-of-3 passes for 14 yards, one conversion and a 67 per cent completion average.

Junior Mark Sweetser hit his only pass attempt, while Tisbert was 0-for-1. Farnham caught 59 passes during the year for 1,120 yards and 15 touchdowns. These figures far exceeded Bob's own school record of 18 receptions for about 250 yards last year.

George Stedman was second to Farnham with 10 catches for 139 yards and two touchdowns. Blaine Randall caught eight passes for 158 yards, Demoulas 6-for-78 and one TD, McCarthy 2-for-38 and one TD, Tisbert 1-for-30, T.J. Stamus 1-for-11 and Fabiani 1-for-3.

Dale Tallini pulled in Sweetser's only aerial, but it went for no gain.

Seero, who some say wanted to be a halfback in the first place, also led the Golden Warriors in rushing with 348 yards in 66 carries for a flashy 5.2 average gain.

Demoulas gained 227 yards in 65 rushes, McCarthy 216 yards in 39 attempts for a 5.5 average, Tisbert 125 yards in 30 tries and Stedman 118 yards in 27 attempts.

Fabiani, one of few sophomores to receive a letter, picked up 87 yards on just 12 carries for an excellent 7.3 per rush mark. Winters was also right in there with 22 yards in four totes.

Seero could probably step into the pro ranks tomorrow as a punter, as borne out by his 40.7 per kick average for 26 boots. Scott unloaded several punts of close to 70 yards in the air and rarely came up with a bad effort by toe.

Mark Sweetser punted just once and boomed a 46 yarder against St. John's Prep.

Seero averaged 51.7 yards for 35 kickoffs, and put on his most dazzling show at Dracut with six straight boots into the endzone.

Mike Murnane was the leading punt return specialist, picking up 13 yards in three runbacks. Other attempts by Bob Burrow, Demoulas and Dave Hubbell went absolutely nowhere.

Farnham had to get his hand in somewhere else, too, and although he received little recognition for it Bob was the top kickoff return artist. The shifty speedster ran back nine kickoffs for 126 yards and an 18.0 average.

Demoulas wasn't far behind with seven runbacks for 111 yards and a 15.9 pace. Others trying their hand with limited success were Tisbert, Stedman, Jeff Towne, Steve Richards, Bill Haskell and Jay Pennick.

The last four players are beefy linemen who simply pulled down short kicks by the opposition.

Ed Flannery proved to be the most alert defensive secondary man with seven pass interceptions which he returned for 98 yards. Murnane picked off five enemy aerials for 84 yards.

Dave Hubbell snatched four and picked up 148 return yards, the majority of which came on a 76-yard return on the last play of the Methuen contest.

Fred Iannazzi made two interceptions, while solo thefts were made by Burrow, John Christopher and Towne.

Kurth Derosier recovered three fumbles. Ray Pizarro, Burrow, Dave Sweetser, Steve Richards and Hubbell pounced on two fumbles. Single recoveries were made by Jan Pennick, Hughes and Towne.

Christopher and Towne both blocked one punt and Burrow recovered an onside kick for the Warriors.

In team stats, Andover led the opposition in first downs (113-99), yards rushing (1220-1172), yards passing (1587-519), passes attempted (182-106), passes completed (88-40), passes intercepted (21-9), total yardage (2815-1691) and points scored (245-93).

The only major category in which Andover trailed the opposition was in total offensive scrimmage plays (455-449).

The Golden Warriors opened with a loss to Wilmington (33-28), but followed with successive

Church League

West A Continues Streak

The Andover Church Basketball League launched its 27th season of competition Monday night with five games at the East Junior High gym.

All action was in the new Intermediate Division (age 10-12½), while Senior Division play is slated to begin in several weeks. Opening-game victories were posted by four-time defending champ West Parish 'A', St. Robert's 'A', South 'A', St. Augustine's 'A' and St. Robert's 'C'.

West A captured its 90th game in the last 94 starts with a 29-8 conquest of West Parish B.

The winners jumped out to an 11-0 first quarter lead and were never headed. Steve Serley led the well-balanced attack for West A with 9 points. Dave Hill canned 6 points, Dave Alexander stuffed 5 points, Dave Callaghan 4 points, Brian Bronson 3 points and Joel Smith 2 points.

Jeff Rosen collected 3 points for West B. Scott Donahue and Bill Hall netted 2 points apiece, while Tim Sweeney swished a free throw.

Kevin Lafferty, Pete Newton, Paul Fitzpatrick, Jody Yameen and Brant Cover also starred for West B.

St. Robert's A, leading by a narrow 7-5 margin at the half, broke things wide open by out-gunning St. Augustine B14-5 over the final two quarters for a 21-10 victory.

Tricky guard T.J. Caveney and Scott Praetz led the way with 6 points each for the winners. Kevin Fogarty and John McNamara notched 4 points apiece. Eddie Collins connected on a second period charity toss to complete the scoring.

Dave Farrell turned in a fine all-around effort for the losers with 7 points and numerous defensive steals. Tom Curtin rammed through 3 points, while other standouts included John Walsh and Bob Owelawg.

Chris Fortune and Todd Orlando also contributed fine efforts for St. Robert's A.

Jeff Hudgins swished a pair of free throws and a game-winning bucket in the fourth quarter, as South A rallied from a 10-8 deficit to pull out a 12-10 win over St. Robert's B.

Will Washburn added 4 points to the winners' attack, while single baskets were scored by Jeff Wolfe and Bob Kilgo.

Rick Shore pumped in 6 points for the losers, who trailed 6-2 after one period before battling back into the lead.

Joe Koravos and Rick Marciano slipped in 2 points apiece for St. Robert's B, which also had good performances from Jeff Nicastro and Mike Chase.

Other South stalwarts were Doug Taylor, Dave Oldaker, John Sagaser and Jim Gardner.

St. Augustine 'A' rode the sharpshooting of Jim Arnold and Terry Reilly to a 24-17 victory over sister-club St. Augustine 'C'.

Mr. Arnold flipped in 12 points and Mr. Reilly popped in 6 more as the big guns. Solo buckets were delivered by Dan Caselden, Mark Bedell and Ed Reming.

Four plays dented the point column for the losers. Bobby Conroy pumped in 6 points, Danny Russo and Joe Torrisi had 4 markers apiece and Ted Paris accounted for 3 points.

Other standouts for the 'C' quintet were Rick Aumais and Mike Lynch.

St. Robert's 'C' produced the biggest offensive explosion of the night, whipping Free Church 39-6.

Frank Griggs hit double figures with 13 points and Billy Ray also cracked twin digits with 12 for the victors. Don McEvoy stuffed 8 points, Mike Murray 4 and Alex Lanio had 2 points for St. Robert's C.

Steve Smith pocketed 4 points and Dave Stanwood had one basket for Free. Other sparkplugs were Eric Frederickson, Jim Cunningham, Al Patterson and Phil Kirkland.

wins over Dracut (32-6), St. John's Prep (19-13), Chelmsford (21-0), Tewksbury (13-12), Billerica (36-6), Burlington (46-6), Methuen (29-16) and Lawrence Central (21-0).

Andover placed second to Wilmington in the Merrimack Valley League and enjoyed its most successful overall season in many, many years.

And now, on to hockey and basketball and track and gymnastics...

FAMILY SHOE DEPARTMENT

For Pupils - A Show And Tell About Town

By Judith Avrett
On Monday morning Abigail Foster, Eliza Kimball and Phebe Johnson dipped candles and churned butter. Phineas Stevens, Caleb Abbot and Dr. Benjamin Kittredge handled a blunderbuss, saw a picket fence cutter and admired a 'bone shaker,' which is a bicycle with an enormous front wheel. For a mid-morning break, they all had cookies, fresh from the fire place.

A scene from the 1800s? Not at all, this took place in the fall of 1972 at the North Andover Historical Society.

The directors of the Society established a program for school children, to enhance their study of American history and to add to their civic pride in North Andover.

The program is run by Mrs. Walter H. Flinn and staffed by volunteers from within the community.

Sixth grade classes visit the Society during the fall and spring on Mondays, from 9 to 12. After a short talk with slides, the group is divided into four groups.

Each child is given the name of someone who had lived in town during the 1800s.

The children then tour the building, observing and helping in aspects of daily life long ago. Candle dipping and baking cookies in a fire place, churning butter and handling old quilts and materials bring vivid examples to text book knowledge. The children see the old tools the settlers used and the guns and swords then in use.

Early American toys are on display, as well as some Indian arrowheads that an early settler may have come across.

To add to the atmosphere, the volunteers are dressed as they would have been one hundred and fifty years ago, with long skirts and demure caps. The volunteers have made their own costumes, after doing careful research. "But sometimes a zipper is used or drip-dry fabric creeps in," laughed Mrs. Flinn. The program takes place in the old Johnson Cottage.

Now in its second year, the program was started by John O'Connor, the first Educational Coordinator for the Society.

A trip to the Braintree Historical Society, which has a similar program, confirmed that the idea was not a pipe dream and that children loved the experience of such a program.

Back in North Andover, volunteers were found.

A journey to Sturbridge by the volunteers gave them a chance to ask questions about the actual processes of candle dipping, fire place cooking techniques.

Roland B. Hammond, a highly regarded authority on Americana, and Dr. Horatio Rogers helped to start the program.

Mrs. Flinn did extensive research on local history and the look-see, touch-feel lessons were launched.

The tours are carefully planned so that each child can participate in every demonstration. "We use a kitchen timer to keep us on schedule. It goes 'bing' far too often," said Mrs. Flinn.

What do the children like best?

"They all have different favorites but most of them like everything," Mrs. Flinn continued. Their attention is unwavering, a high compliment to Mrs. Flinn's planning and the volunteers' skills. "The best way I can describe the children's reactions is to let you read some of their letters and see some of the pictures they draw after the trip.

As one might predict, the boys were wowed by the guns and swords, the tools, the bicycle and the cookies. Girls were more impressed with the domestic aspects, the old dolls and the cookies. "I found it very interesting to know so many things happened right here," wrote one. "I wish we had that apple peeler now, it would make it easier," commented another. "When we had to sign our name on that piece of paper and we had to use that feather, the feather kept on skipping," noted one frustrated John Hancock.

Many of the children expressed a desire to return to the building with friends and parents. One little girl said that she "had wanted to move away from North Andover but now I don't."

The volunteers are Mrs. Dana Fisher, who greets the children and gives the preliminary talk and slide show, Mrs. Charles Salisbury and Mrs. Norman Flanders demonstrate tools and equipment. Mrs. Henry Donovan is in charge of weaving, clothing and quilts. The candle dipping is done by Mrs. Vera Warwick. The popular cookie bakers are Mrs. Joseph Rokous and Mrs. William Kilcoyne. Manning the butter churn is Mrs. John Osgood. Ray Ryan, the custodian for the Historical Society shows the guns and swords and leads the tour to see the furniture in the gallery.

The program is a great success and the volunteers, Mr. Ryan and Mrs. Flinn must feel proud of their work. The children's praise has reached the ears of adults and Mrs. Flinn and her staff have been asked to demonstrate their program to adults. The tour will be held in the spring for members of the Historical Society.

Babysitters Are Certified

On Wednesday, Nov. 29, 59 students received certification at a graduation party upon completing the Red Cross requirements for Babysitting.

The course, held annually during the first term of the school year, is sponsored by the Andona Society. Junior High students from the East and West Junior High Schools and St. Augustine's School participated in the five-week course.

A lecture on Child Care and First Aid was given by Dr. Barbara Hajjar, M.D., pediatrician; Mrs. Brewster Seewald and Mrs. Norman Viehmann, nursery school teachers, spoke on ways to entertain children, from toddlers to ten year olds; Fire Lieutenant Edward King and Safety Officer Richard Aumais gave a talk on fire hazards and safety in the home; Mrs. Michael Kinsella, R.N. and Mrs. William J. Dalton, R.N. discussed child development and demonstrated diapering a baby.

The American Heart Association provided a film: "Breath of Life," after which the students practiced mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on the Red Cross "Resusci Anne" and on a model provided by the YMCA.

Each student meeting the requirements will be listed as available babysitters at the American Red Cross Andover Chapter, Pynchard Ave., and at the respective guidance offices.

Co-ordinators for the course include: Miss Irene Libby, R.N., Andover Red Cross; Misses Cahoon and Sweeney, Guidance East-West Junior High Schools; Sister Mary Rosalie, S.N.D. Principal, St. Augustine's School; Mesdames Kinsella, Dalton, Schwing and Appleton of the Andona Society.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

About three weeks ago, our dog was hit by a motorist in front of the Bell Tower of Phillips Academy. This thoughtless driver never even stopped to take him out of the street. Were it not for a group of Phillips students, an Academy professor and his wife who took the time to bring the dog to their dormitory, find out the owner's name by his dog's license and then drive to our home because our telephone was busy to advise us of the accident, the dog would not be alive today. We were able to get him to the Andover Animal Hospital where the good doctors were able to pull him through and after a stay of 10 days, he is now recuperating at home.

In our excitement, we neglected to thank these kind and thoughtful Phillips students and professor and wife and want to publically do so now.

It will be a happy Christmas for Maura, our 11 year old daughter, as "Spice" was a Christmas present to her last year.

Sincerely and gratefully,
The Cooks

Initiative

This business about regionalism that keeps cropping up from time to time that concerns us most, is the fear that one day soon we'll wake up and find ourselves smack dab in the middle of something that is on the table or scheduled for discussion.

Regional districts were discussed a week ago by the selectmen, principally Milton Greenberg, who had proposed an examination of affiliation with communities to the south for certain matters, such as transportation.

He had asked consideration of severing ties with the towns of North Andover and Methuen and the city of Lawrence in regional planning, if necessary, to serve the interests of Andover better.

This brought a sharp retort from Lawrence's Alderman Reming, who properly questioned the Andover motives in view of its close ties with the city.

This idea of regional operations is not new. It has been proposed, studied and discussed for many years now. It is already upon us in certain areas of municipal operation.

Andover has become a part of regional districts to find solutions to remedy specific problems, such as river pollution, solid waste disposal, area planning and has been actively and financially involved in such matters.

In the area of education, it is involved with the Merrimack Valley neighbors in the regional vocational school.

The Budget

Andover's budget prospects for the next 18 months are not something which could be greeted with enthusiasm, to be sure.

The preliminary economic picture, as contained in the town manager's compulsory Dec. 1 budget message, contains nothing which would indicate a downward trend in financial obligations.

While the general governmental operations budget is healthy enough, the school department requests are even more staggering.

The logical question in view of the school cost could reasonably be are the townspeople getting proper return for their investment?

Is the price paid for new educational programs proving beneficial?

Andover's education costs continue to soar in comparison to other communities. The question remains, however, as to how much benefit is being reaped from the various new programs, and the worth of their continuance.

Such things should be fully evaluated before a final budget is adopted by school officials. We realize that proper education is costly, but feel an examination of any luxury aspects should be made within the Andover system, along with a view of the administrative setup.

It could prove worthwhile.

Candidates

We realize the holiday season probably precludes any such thoughts as a town election, "way off in March."

But, the time will rapidly approach and another municipal election will be upon us.

There are all sorts of rumored candidates at present, among them the possibility that a female may be a candidate for the first time in recent memory.

Possibly making positive steps toward entering the local political scene, is the failure of incumbents to signify their future intentions as of the moment.

Regardless of such pending decisions, it would be wise for some consideration being given now to the election in March.

A dearth of candidates can only mean a lack of interest in the efficient operation of the municipality.

This is hardly the time for an expression of disinterest, as evidenced by the budgetary projections currently being made.

Too, there are numerous decisions to be made regarding the future of Andover and its environs in the years ahead.

This is hardly the time to be passive about local municipal operations.

It is imperative that active concern be expressed through participation in the electoral process and we urge some attention now on the part of prospective candidates.

In the past year, proposals were made to merge the communities of Andover and North Andover, an idea which mushroomed into all sorts of ideas as neighboring municipal leaders put forth their proposals.

From that came a seminar on intercommunity effort which resulted in some conclusions, since apparently conveniently tucked away in municipal folders.

Needless to say, the problem will not go away. If anything, this idea of regional or intercommunity co-operation to provide relief for specific area, will grow more necessary as governmental costs increase.

Therefor, it behooves someone to get the matter of who is to work toward regional problem solving moving in the right direction.

Since Andover always seems to be bothered by an identity problem, and most recently has been the initiator of regional or municipal merger proposals, it would seem proper for this town to assume the leadership.

If there is sincere concern about regionalism and its local effects, rather than a stalling, studying motive, then let Andover take the initiative toward forming a meaningful, united effort in the area of inter community co-operation, before suddenly finding ourselves enjoined in an unworkable or disjointed union.

Off The Top Of The Desk

This is the season that produces an unusual breed known as bulbous nincompoops.

They appear annually at this time and get some apparent great joy from stealing bulbs from outdoor decorations.

Already local police departments are receiving reports of the numerous thefts.

Seems pretty stupid.

To receive for their reward the stupid and malicious damage seems senseless, since the youthful vandals simply either break the bulbs or throw them in the woods or brush.

Another breed, whose actions are about in the same class as above, generally appears on the scene about this time of year, sometimes earlier, depending on when the first substantial snowfall arrives.

This type of boob generally drives his car in a manner so as to give the impression it is summertime.

He backs out of driveways or darts out of side streets into oncoming traffic as if there was nothing wrong.

On Monday, many of these were coming out of side roads on Elm street, in the usual rush to get nowhere particularly, but well on their way to an accident, of which they would be an integral part.

That halftime show Sunday afternoon by the Indiana Band of Pennsylvania, (can't figure that one out) was something else.

Between the half of the Pittsburg-Cleveland contest, the band gave a stirring display, accompanied by cannoneading and capped off by the unfurling of a monstrous American Flag.

Get a charge out of the commercials for electric trains, this year.

The sales pitch is based on the toy engine spurring forth live steam.

The youngsters receiving such a set can now see such a replica of former days of railroading only in museums.

Come to think of it, the old steam engine may be something even some of today's parents, who will probably enjoy the trains more anyway, hardly remember.

Ponds are still unsafe for skating and are always to be considered dangerous until a substantial cold spell has set in.

There are signs of some skating weather ahead, however.

Rea's pond in North Andover, has been showing a thin skin of ice lately, indicative of things to come. The area is pretty generally the first safe skating area in the town, if and when ponds can be considered safe for use.

Always impressed by the lure the slightest touch of snow has for youngsters with sleds.

Noticed Monday afternoon just after a few flakes had taken hold a group of youngsters had the old sleds, either regular or makeshift in action.

From all appearances, the lads were really skimming frozen ground, rather than snow.

A check Tuesday afternoon found the same group enjoying the newly deposited white stuff even more.

"Good drivers are familiar with bad-weather preparations," mentioned David J. Christensen, Executive Vice President of the Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley.

"In addition to checking the battery and adding antifreeze, the wise driver also tends to everything affecting his vision and traction: windshield wipers, snow tires, brakes, etc.

This is because he knows that bad weather not only taxes his vehicle; it also demands that he be able to see all hazards and respond to them quickly. The motorist must watch out especially for other drivers and pedestrians."

Mr. Christensen went on to explain that pedestrians should be just as aware of wintertime hazards. "Ice, snow, and rain not only make walking itself more difficult; they also make it easier for you to suddenly find yourself in the path of a car.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - December, 1897

The local police have failed to find any clue to the slick stranger who secured $100 on a worthless check which bore the forged endorsement of W. L. Ropes, librarian at the Theological Seminary.

The postmaster reminds that use of the mails to publications which advertise the missing letter prize contests, is forbidden. It is similar, if not worse, than a lottery, he states.

Joseph Dodson of Lawrence, was successful in killing a fox in West Andover Saturday. The animal was pursued all day Friday and finally caught the next day. The skin is now being tanned and is considered the largest of the eight bagged this year.

The few warm days this week have caused the pansies to sprout forth. The unusual occurrence took place in the Cummings garden this morning.

Beacon Hill Observations

By Bill Kirtz

"Every child is entitled to the full protection of the Commonwealth. . . Parents are assured of a decisive role."

These are some phrases in the state's new law covering mentally ill youngsters.

And David S. Liederman, director of the newly-established Office for Children, feels it's his job to "make these grandiose words come true."

Mr. Liederman, a Malden Democrat who has earned a formidable Young Turk reputation during four years as a State Representative, dropped plans to run for a third term when Governor Sargent asked him to head the new agency which aims to help children of working mothers, from broken homes and with a wide range of handicaps.

Public schools only elect "selected children," he believes. "They don't know what the hell to do with kids outside the norm. The Department of Mental Health means well but the bureaucracy boggles the mind. We have to start picking up children who are falling through the cracks."

So the former social worker and urban renewal consultant is touring the state speaking to parents of mentally ill children and trying to persuade them that "people get power who take power."

His office hopes, within the next year, to set up 39 area councils, on which parents of affected children will be represented, to give citizens the chance to review proposed spending and to suggest better ways to deliver state services to those who need it.

Now, he contends, children are caught up in an "elitist system" which gives very little say to parents who he feels are often shunted around from agency to agency, social worker to social worker, psychiatrist to psychiatrist.

More funding due

In some regions, $750,000 will be allocated to strengthen current services and to initiate programs for children now getting no help.

"We want," Mr. Liederman says, "to make sure that every child who needs service gets service." And with one thousand youngsters on the waiting list for one particular program, he declares that the present system "just isn't working."

As a politician, the new office head realizes there's a long distance between promises and reality. He believes more staffing and closer coordination between the four state agencies who administer children's services will help but places his greatest confidence in parent-power.

"Parents of children with problems have an investment and a commitment," he says. "They aren't going away, and they'll work damn hard for their own kids if for no other reason. The legislative process isn't rational, so people should be prepared for a long, hard fight. We want to get the best system, not just the best for political reasons."

"Parents have a vested interest in making the system work," He believes, "and they can't make any more mistakes as consumers than bureaucrats are making every day."

The Bantams Are Travelers

By RICK HARRISON
Join the Andover Bantam hockey team and see the world... at least a small part of it! Probably the most energetic sports team based in this town is the Andover Hockey Association's Banta 'A' squad, which annually travels several thousand miles in the northeast portion of North America while competing on an international scale.

For example, the Bantam 'A' club will make its seventh straight journey to Canada for a series of games in February, and a pair of Canadian teams will return the favor later this month and again in March.

Area hockey fans can get a good first-hand look at youth hockey Canadian-style on Dec. 27, 28 and 29 when the Etobicoke Canucks of Toronto invade Andover for a three-game series against the local Bantams.

This will be the first visit to Massachusetts for Etobicoke, a team made up exclusively of 14-year-old players. The Canucks compete in the Metropolitan Toronto Hockey League, and last year they defeated Andover 6-1 while the local team was "vacationing" in Ontario.

The first game between Andover and Etobicoke will be on Wednesday, Dec. 27 at 6:30 p.m. at the Phillips Academy Rink.

Game two is set for Thursday, Dec. 28 at 6 p.m. at the new Merrimack College rink, and the third contest is listed for Friday, Dec. 29 at 8 p.m. at Phillips Academy.

READY. Andover Bantam Hockey team first line is ready for the season which will see them playing Canadian teams on a home and home basis. On the first line are, left to right, Mark Farnham, Alan Kurth and Thom Lawlor.

The Etobicoke players and chaperones will be housed by the parents of players on the Andover team, which is normal procedure for inter-country exchanges such as this.

The Etobicoke series is a very important but small part of the Andover Bantam 'A' schedule, which will include 30 games this winter.

A pair of weekend trips to Princeton, N.J. and West Point are also on the agenda. Princeton has become an annual junket, while the journey to the Army academy is new this year.

Other one-day treks will include games at Brown University in Providence, R.I., at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H., at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Me., at Concord, Rochester and Manchester, N.H. and games at Pittsfield and Weymouth.

The week-long trip to Canada is set for February 18-24. Four games have been lined up, two in Toronto and two in Oshawa, Ontario.

The Andover entourage including 19 players, Head Coach Dick Neal and several parents, will travel northward by bus. In Toronto the group will stay in a hotel, while in Oshawa the parents of the Canadian players will house the Andover crew.

This is more than just an athletic adventure, however, as many other interesting activities are planned for the Bantam 'A' kids.

They will visit the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto, the Ontario Science Center and several other landmarks near the city.

Perhaps the biggest highlight is the annual visit to the children's hospital, where the Andover Bantams will spread some cheer to the badly-crippled youngsters.

Neal has hopes that a "hockey game" can be arranged this year between the Andover team and the hospital kids. Participants, compete in wheelchairs, and the end result is fun for all concerned.

This is the 14th year of operation for the Andover Hockey Association.

"We began in 1959 with about 20 kids," recalled Neal. "This year we have 408 boys between the ages of 7 and 14 registered in our program. I think it would be safe to say that we've doubled in size during the last five years alone."

"We now have four teams competing on regular schedules, two Bantam and two Pee Wee, and many other clubs involved at the intra-mural and instructional levels," added Neal, who is the principal of the West Junior High School when not on the ice.

Of course Neal doesn't do it by himself — not by a long shot. Many volunteer coaches are also needed to make the vastly-expanding program operate efficiently.

"Our Bantams have never played in a league," explained Neal. "The independent schedule and travelling is much better. We've been on a schedule similar to this since 1967, and prior to that we moved around but it was more localized."

"The first year we went to Canada (1966) we hit five different cities, and through the various Chambers of Commerce and Recreation Departments we were able to make some good contacts. Once the contacts were made we were able to refine the schedule to just what we wanted," remarked Neal.

This year's team appears to be another good one, with nine returning "veterans" including the entire first line.

Rich Daley is the man in the middle on the second line. Chris Bensley, who led the team in scoring last season, is at right wing and Rick Moody at left wing.

Other standout performers include center Lee Apgar and wingers John Fabiani, John Lyons, Tim Tanner and Chuck Redman.

The defensive corps boasts veterans Jim Watson and Dale Crossan, along with first-year players Paul Derby, Mike Cullinan, Joe Pasquale and Bill Best.

The goaltending tandem for 1972-73 will be Brian Twomey and Jeff Hubbell. Twomey was back-up to ace netminder Steve Fabiani last year, while Hubbell is a newcomer.

Many Bantam graduates have gone on to star for the Andover High hockey team, including just about everyone on the current Golden Warrior squad (Scott Seero, Bob Farnham, Ed Flannery, Mike Murnane, John Christopher, Dave Hubbell, Fabiani, etc.).

Everything points to another banner campaign for the Andover Bantam 'A' sextet... and don't you wish your kid could skate now!

MVACLD Group To Have Film

The 8 p.m. Dec. 11 meeting of the Merrimack Valley Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will feature a film episode of "Marcus Welby, M.D.," which deals with the subject of learning disabilities.

The film is about a father who will not accept the fact that his son is dyslexic. He persists in thinking that the son is simply lazy and that he can straighten things out by sending the boy off to military school. The show demonstrates some of the prejudices and problems that parents, schools and the general public have to overcome in helping children with learning disabilities.

Following the showing, pediatric psychiatrist Dr. Mary Bain, will be on hand to lead the discussion and answer questions from the floor.

The meeting will be held at the Ballard Vale United church, Clark Road and Hall Avenue, Andover. The meeting is open to the public without charge. Refreshments will be served.

than in playwriting or acting. In a suggestivistic production the settings are stripped to the minimal suggestions necessary to maintaining an illusion of reality. It may be differentiated from symbolism in that it is still concerned with portraying an outer rather than inner reality.

In a suggestivistic setting in "He who gets slapped" by Andreyev, the backstage area of the circus might well be represented by a few key circus properties placed within a drapery setting. The purpose is still to create the realistic illusion of a circus, but the selectivity in the design is so great that only a suggestion of the real remains. The rest must be filled in by the imagination of the spectator. Probably the most important principle in governing suggestivistic design relates to the selection of the symbols. If the design is to serve its purpose, the symbols must be sufficiently universal to communicate readily the desired suggestion to the audience.

Most productions on the central stage are good examples of suggestivism. The central stage, surrounded by the audience, is ill-adapted to the complexities of the more realistic forms. Simple realistic symbols a massive chair to suggest a throne room create the illusion of reality.

Dialogue is seldom written in a suggestivistic style. The writing is simplified realism; the intense selection occurs in the production. Also there is probably no such thing as suggestivistic acting. The relationship of the actor to the scene does change, however, in the suggestivistic production. In naturalistic and simplified realistic production, the actor is surrounded by scenery. The setting shares the limelight.

Vocational Education On Wheels Could Be A Help

"Vocational students used to be put in the cellar with a crumb, and now it's the opposite. We have federal money, space, everything; the Latin scholar wants to be tied up to vocational education and communities feel our admissions procedures are too selective!" says James Booth, director of the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School.

"It's too much of a swing. There should be a happy medium - a marriage between academic and vocational education."

As part of the dowry, Booth offers the possibility of rotating four mobile classrooms between the high schools of the four member communities. Complete with equipment for four different vocational specialties, the mobile classrooms would bring more vocational education-career education, Booth calls it than the high schools now provide, to prepare students to step into jobs waiting in local industry. The Greater Lawrence Vo-Tech has the four trailers now, using them to house classes awaiting completion of new facilities under construction.

Booth was speaking to the Andover school committee and the five-member Student Advisory Council. They had asked the Vo-Tech director and its Andover representative, Fred Tarbox, to their recent meeting to discuss opening up vocational school admission to senior high school transfers. Present general policy is to accept students at the ninth grade level, for a four-year combination of academic and technical classwork and shop or lab.

The immediate outcome of the meeting was unanimous school committee passage of Dr. Frank Griggs' motion to set up a continuing formal dialogue between the school committee and the Vo-Tech School to improve flow of communication and work for upper level transfers. Dr. Griggs and Chairman William King will provide this liaison.

That the Vo-Tech is in the catbird seat, indeed, is evidenced by its 100 percent placement of last year's seniors in the jobs they had trained for, its almost nonexistent dropout record - always less than 2 percent - and Andover school committee and high school student pleas for the vocational school to adopt a more flexible admissions policy.

Committeeman Frank Hill and Student Advisory Committeeman Carnell Cooper urged upper level transfers on the Vo-Tech director. Cooper said a student who had chosen the high school route, "might get really good in electronics, outgrow the high school courses and really want to go to the Voke School."

Could he get in? Booth said his best bet would be industrial entry - coming after school to the 3-6 p.m. classes which might have openings, with a chance of later working into the regular Vo-Tech school if he did really well. Booth said the simple fact is that the Vo-Tech School is full, and turns away applicants who want to come in for four years.

CHECKING over an item for Christmas giving is Mrs. Virginia Willett with Mrs. Sharon Joiner assisting in one of Andover's downtown stores.

Some Student Advisory Council members doubted that many students would opt for Vo-Tech classes after six hours of the regular high school.

Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert suggested a Vo-Tech admissions goal for each community, and double sessions if necessary. Booth explained that the Vo-Tech already runs after school classes, and adult programs in the evening. "4,000 people go through our school every week. We have to serve all sectors of the community."

The seven-year old school now has 1,403 regular students. When its new facilities are completed, to expand for full services for girls, the enrollment is projected at 1,869 next year, and 2,000 the following year. But this doesn't necessarily mean room for the upper level transfers Andover is asking for.

The vocational school's director pointed out that a Vo-Tech school is not just shop classes a student can plug into at any point, but a combination of academic, and technical classwork and shopwork. This is why applicants must be screened carefully, and the admissions are selective, even at the ninth grade level. Booth pointed out that the Greater Lawrence facility already serves 20 percent of its regional constituency, as compared to the state average of vocation schools - 7 percent.

Besides "vocational schools are not a panacea," Booth told the educators, "All educational systems must look at themselves and see that they can do for kids in career education. We're getting federal money because they're interested in career education, and the high schools should be too. That means training kids with salable skills so they can step into jobs that industries or business around them are offering. Booth said the Vo-Tech School can help interested schools moving more into career education, and suggested the mobile vocational education classrooms as one means. Meanwhile, the school committee will have representation at the Vocational School's monthly meetings.

Troop Plans Tree Sale

A Christmas tree and wreath sale will be held this month by Senior Girl Scout Troop 39 of Andover. This is the third annual tree and wreath sale of the troop.

All trees have been freshly cut in Maine. Wreaths are made of fresh cut balsam and may be purchased plain or decorated.

The sale will be held at the Purity Supreme parking lot on Friday, Dec. 15 from 3 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday, Dec. 16 from 9 a.m. to 6 a.m.

Proceeds of the sale will be used to help finance Troop 39's long range projects, including "Tour through History," a historic tour through Williamsburg, Virginia, planned for spring and summer of 1973.

Historic Toys Featured

On Thursday evening, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. the Andover Historical Society will hold its Christmas meeting in the Deacon Amos Blanchard House, 97 Main Street, Andover.

The Andover Garden Club has decorated the house to make a fitting and pleasing background for the traditional carol singing.

George H. Sherwood has arranged a collection of children's toys from long before the days of batteries and plastic, and the 1969 Toy Safety Law. Some of the Society's children's dishes will also be on display. The toys and dishes will be on exhibition during the Christmas season, and the public is invited to stop in to view them Monday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 4 p.m., or Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. It is guaranteed to be a happy change from Santa's current stock.

Commissioned As Ensign

During a recent ceremony in Manchester, N.H., Miss Elizabeth Anne Ferrier of Andover, was commissioned an Ensign in the United States Navy Nurse Corps. The Commissioning Oath was administered by Major Walter J. Gallo, United States Marine Corps Reserve, from the Naval Air Station at South Weymouth. Major Gallo is Director of Alumni at St. Anselm's College.

Miss Ferrier is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferrier of Andover St. in Andover. She is a graduate of Andover High School and is presently a senior at St. Anselm's College.

Miss Ferrier attended St. Anselm's College School of Nursing for two years under the Navy Nurse Corps Candidate Program where she received full tuition, a portion of the cost of books, plus pay and allowances from the Navy.

After graduation in 1973, Ensign Ferrier will attend an officer indoctrination course at Newport, R.I., and then report to one of the large Naval Hospitals in the United States where she will serve on active duty for three years.

Teachers Untying Program

Andover's junior high school teachers are considering the possibilities of untying their schools' educational program from the strict 45-minute period schedule, at least on a pilot basis next year.

Principals Dr. Richard McGrail of East Junior High and William Hart of West Junior High are exploring with their faculties the concept of teacher teams, to work with heterogeneous teams of students in an interdisciplinary approach to education. The interdisciplinary team approach may be piloted at the seventh grade level next year at both schools.

The teacher team, rather than the traditional class period, would decide the length of time a group of students in the team would spend in a given educational activity. In social studies, for example, a movie which is a good information base and discussion-starter may last half an hour - that doesn't leave much time in a 45 minute period for the discussion of the issue the real learning action of the children's challenges and conclusions, after the film is run. Homemaking and art are obvious fields where longer sessions would be beneficial to educational activities or projects.

The students learning under each teaching team of specialists in the various departments would be a heterogeneous team. Presently many junior high students are "tracked" into ability groupings for their various subjects.

The teaching team approach facilitates an individual student's teachers getting together to discuss his overall progress, and to devise strategies to further his educational development, according to Dr. Richard McGrail.

Both McGrail and Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert note that extensive research has found no significant achievement difference between children taught in homogeneous classes, ability-grouped, and children taught in randomly chosen, heterogeneous groups. But there is no doubt, McGrail said, that there is a social gain in the random grouping; the slower students tend to try to bring themselves up, and the faster students gain a lot when they help slower youngsters out.

West's Principal Hart says his teachers have showed a keen interest in the new framework for a more interdisciplinary approach, and the gains from making more educational decisions themselves. He said teachers would be involved in coming weeks in discussions of how such a pilot program would be planned.

Dr. McGrail told the TOWNSMAN that the primary reason for moving in this direction would be as a way for teachers to get to know kids better, and more closely, as kids and as academic students. He stressed that joining interdisciplinary teacher teams would not mean that an English teacher would be any less an English department member, or less a scholar in that field. Both principals see the interdisciplinary team approach as an effective means of putting more decisions into the hands of the teachers - the people most directly working with the students.

Superintendent Seifert says he is impressed with the motivation coming from some of the faculty at the junior high level, to implement the concept of the junior high as an "exploratory school" for the middle years.

Progress reports on the plans of the junior highs will be forthcoming, the administrators promised.

Ski Film Sunday

A 35-minute helicopter flight in what Warren Miller has described as "an unbelievably beautiful world of ice and snow" is a high point of "The Sound of Winter," a 90-minute sound-color film scheduled for showing here on Sunday, Dec. 10.

The film will be shown at 7 p.m. at Kemper Auditorium, Phillips Academy, directly across the street from the Andover Inn, and featured will be the flight during a visit to Zermatt, Switzerland while gathering footage for this exciting ski film production.

Miller's production will be sponsored by the Phillips Ski Team and by Rabbit Pond Cluster.

Carol Service At Chapel

The traditional Christmas Carol Service at Phillips Academy will be at 5 o'clock on Sunday, Dec. 10, in The Cochran Chapel.

It is a worship service of Lessons and Carols derived from ancient sources and is celebrated according to its usage at King's College, Cambridge, England. The seven lessons will be read by students of Abbot Academy and Phillips Academy. The carols will be sung by the Abbot Academy choir under the direction of Mrs. Christine Johnston and the Phillips Academy choir under the direction of William L. Schneider.

The girls will sing:
Masters in This Hall - a traditional French carol arr. by David Wilcocks; Whence is That Goodly Fragrance? - a traditional French carol arr. by A. E. Baker.

The boys will sing:
Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming English text by Theodore Baker; Music by Michael Praetorius; Glory To That New Born King - a spiritual; O Magnum Mysterium - Jacob Handl; I Wonder as I wander - Appalachian carol.

Preceding the worship service, starting at 4:40 o'clock Mrs. Carolyn Skelton, organist at Phillips Academy, will present a program of Christmas Organ Music. She will play the following French Noels of the Eighteenth Century:

Quand le Sauveur Jesus Christ...
(When the Saviour Jesus Christ...)

A minuit fut fait un Reveil
(At Midnight There was An Awakening)

Noel de Saintonge
Au jo deu de pubelle-Grand dei, ribon ribeine

Ou s'en vont Ces gais bergers

Garden Club Decorates Center

Under the Chairmanship of Mrs. James Beattie, members of the Four Seasons Garden Club participated last Saturday morning in their annual Christmas decoration of the public safety center.

Since its completion in 1970, club members have maintained a year-round program at the Center with the planting of spring bulbs, summer annuals, and evergreen shrubs and trees, culminating with the "Hanging of the Greens." Christmas for the Four Seasons also means it's time to decorate wards of the Lawrence General Hospital, to bring cheer to those patients who cannot be home for the holidays. In addition to the civic beautification project at the Public Safety Center, the Conservation and Horticulture

Committee headed by Mrs. Roger Ives has been involved in a Nature Trail. Located on Town Conservation Commission land behind Pomp's Pond, the trail is about 1½ miles in length; it circles swamps and crosses pine and deciduous woods. Work will get under way as soon as weather permits in the spring, when plants, shrubs and trees will be identified with wooden markers. Funds for these undertakings are raised each spring at the club's annual plant sale.

Friendly Guild To Have Party

The Friendly Guild of Christ Church will hold its annual Christmas Party in the Parish House on Monday, Dec. 11.

Refreshments will be served early in the evening by Mrs. Edward Pettoruto, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Sidney Lamb, Mrs. John Greenhow, Jr. and Mrs. Marjorie Turner.

Members are reminded to bring dollar gifts to exchange.

Holiday Wine, Quiche Party Set

A holiday atmosphere will prevail at the Quiche and Wine Party being held at the Andover Country Club Sunday, Dec. 10, from 4 - 7 p.m.

This gala event is being sponsored by the Greater Lawrence Chapter of the Friends of the New England Home for Little Wanderers.

Raymond Spicer, regional director of the Friends of Wine, will be on hand to explain the difference between wines. This event was such a success last year, according to the Friends of the New England Home for Little Wanderers, that they feel most fortunate in having Mr. Spicer coming again this year.

Mrs. Lyman Bullard, assisted by Mrs. C. Baker Clotworthy and her committee, hope that many will get into the holiday spirit by joining these festivities at the Andover Country Club, to enjoy a glass of wine and a slice of quiche with old friends and new, with soft music, and gay decorations. There will be surprises in store too.

The public is invited to attend, and tickets for the benefit may be purchased at the door.

Christmas Concert At Church

The Christ Church Concert Series will present the Christ Church Choirs in a service of music and scriptures related to the anticipation of the coming of Jesus Christ. This Advent festival, Dec. 10 at 4 p.m. at the church (25 Central St.) will feature Cantata 61 by J.S. Bach, Come Saviour of Mankind, which will be accompanied by a chamber orchestra from the New England Conservatory. Soloists Mary Lou Graves, Soprano, David Dusing, Tenor, John Oliphant, Tenor, and David Thomas, Bass will also present arias and other works for solo voice.

Choirs participating in the Advent festival will be the Men and Boys Choir, the Adult Choir, and the St. Anne's Choir. The Rector, Rev. J. Edison Pike, will offer the bidding prayer. The Christ Church School has made banners to be carried in the great procession. Advent scriptures will be read. Servers will be George Starks and Keith Starks. Torchbearers will be Bruce Wilton and Mark Deacon. The Episcopal Young Churchmen will host a reception following the service.

Compositions by Praetorius, Batten, Schop, Willan, Vaughan Williams, and Felciano will also be presented. A new work "Renaissance" by Jon Wattenbarger, Organist and Choirmaster at Christ Church, will be performed by Mary Lou Graves, Soprano, and Lois Regestein, Organist. The composition was recently commissioned by Andover organ builder George Bozeman, Jr. A freewill offering will be taken.

This concert will be the second in a series of concerts sponsored by the church for the Merrimack Valley populace. The next concert on Jan. 21 will feature Gaylord Carter, world famous theater organist, accompanying Cecil B. DeMille's silent film classic, "The King of Kings."

Pancake Breakfast

Explorer Post 77 of Andover will hold a pancake breakfast from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 9, in Fellowship Hall of West Parish church.

The menu will consist of sausages, coffee or tea, juice and all the pancakes one can consume.

PAINTING SELECTED. The thirteen artists whose paintings were selected to illustrate the American Mutual Insurance Companies' 1973 calendar were guests at a luncheon held at the Towne Lyne House on November 26. Andover artist Corinne Staid, whose watercolor illustrates the month of January, talks with American Mutual vice president Alden Wood, director of public relations. Her painting was chosen from the more than 230 entries in the North Suburban Art Exhibit held this fall at the insurance companies' home office building in Wakefield.

Good Old Water

Most Americans take drinking water for granted...at least until they travel out of the country.

When my husband and I were footloose and fancyfree (meaning we didn't have kids yet), we went to Paris one hot summer. Never again did we fail to appreciate good old H₂O.

We were warned not to drink tap water, and for a while we managed to survive on miscellaneous soda water, mineral water, and wine. At first the wine was romantic and exotic, but gradually a thirst grew upon us. Like the desire for bacon and eggs instead of croissants for breakfast, the thirst for water crept up on us and engulfed us even as we tried desperately to lose our ingrained American habits.

At last we learned that we could order "citron presse" at a sidewalk cafe and get half a lemon, some sugar and a glass of water...real, genuine, uncarbonated water. That was just fine, except that being Puritan enough to feel guilty about uneaten food, we always ate the lemon too...squeezed into the last quarter-glass of water. Soon our tongues felt like sandpaper.

The problem was solved by going to Switzerland, where the springs and faucets flowed with delicious, pure mountain water. We drank, and drank, and drank. But my husband's Swiss cousin was disdainful. "You shouldn't drink that stuff. It will corrode your insides." But we joyfully took the risk.

When we returned to the United States, we never forgot to appreciate the simple pleasures of water...cool, clear water.

That was in the days before most people realized the dangers of pollution. We learned to appreciate water...but we still took it for granted that "it couldn't happen here."

But recently Americans have been discovering that water, like the other simple things of life (air, for example, and quiet, and a stroll in the woods), is not something you can take for granted anywhere.

Now, more and more, it is being discovered that drinking water even in America isn't always as safe as it seems. The list of new and frightening pollutants grows longer every year: mercury, lead, radioactivity, sodium, pesticides, herbicides, nitrates, phosphates, poly-chlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), and other man-made organic compounds with strange-sounding names.

Citizens need to make sure that their local water supply is tested fully and frequently, and the results made public.

Modern science can make pollutants our ancestors never dreamed of.

Carol Sing At Castle

The Hammond Castle, 80 Hesperus Avenue, Gloucester, will present its seventh Christmas Carol Concerts on Sunday afternoons, Dec. 10 and 17, at 3 p.m.

This old-fashioned concert includes carol singing for everyone present, and a musical program by the Dow Family Singers, Reverend and Mrs. Lester S. Dow, Mark, Suzanne, Joanna, Esther and Danny.

The Noel Caroleers consisting of Deborah Barnett, Cheryl Boyne; Kathryn Brown, Cynthia Brown, Beverly Graham, Jennifer Harrison, Carolyn Leanos, Lois Lindquist, Sandra Noble; Anne O'Connell, Eileen O'Connell, and Amy Porter, will sing "Snow" and "The White World of Winter".

Mrs. Gloria Cahoon will direct the carol singing, with Mrs. Corinne B. Witham, organist. The castle has been decorated for the Yuletide season, and Santa Claus will make his appearance at the close of each of the Carol Sings.

Gift Packs Available

There are several Massachusetts apple orchards which feature standard and custom designed apple gift packs for Christmas giving. Gift packs from these particular orchards can be shipped anywhere in the country in specially designed containers to insure freshness and flavor upon their arrival.

All apples shipped out of the state must be certified by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture. Don't make the mistake of purchasing apples at retail, packing them yourself and shipping them to friends in other states. California, among others, routinely confiscates uncertified fruit at the border and destroys it.

Only woodpeckers use long, sharp tongues to feed.

Memorial Hall Library

Music

The string section of the Merrimack Valley Symphony Orchestra will return to Memorial Hall Library on December 19 for a Christmas concert. This program in honor of Andover's senior citizens was initiated last year when it proved to be very popular with all ages who came to listen to the sounds of the violins and cellos reverberating through the library. Mr. Joseph Pulvino will bring his group back again this year at 7 p.m. on Tuesday evening, December 19. Coffee and Christmas cookies will be served. Transportation will be provided for those older folks who do not drive. Please telephone the library, or register

Opera Club

The Library Opera Club meeting scheduled for November 29 had to be postponed to December 8. The group will meet at 8 p.m. on Friday evening, December 8 at the home of Mrs. Lotte Bertheim, 226 Hampshire St., Methuen. Anyone who is interested in opera may join the Opera Club at any meeting. Telephone the library if you would like directions for getting to the Bertheim home on December 8. "The Valkyries," second opera in the Ring series by Wagner, will be the subject for listening pleasure at this meeting.

Great Books

Members of the Great Books Discussion Group will meet on December 12 at 7:30 in the Print Room at the library. "Symposium" by Plato is the book for discussion. New members are always welcome at Great Books.

Orbit For Teens

The new library club for young people is getting underway with enthusiasm. Meetings are held on Wednesdays at 3:15 in the afternoon until 4:45. Interesting ideas and plans for action are being developed. The most popular activity at this time involves reading to the patients at the nursing homes in Andover. The young people entertained the older people at the Hughes House by reading Christmas stories to them at the last meeting of the club. Mr. Sherm Pridham and Mrs. Gwen Smith are supervising the Library Orbit for Teens. Any boy or girl in junior or senior high is welcome to join Orbit.

TV Widows

The film program designed to bring happiness to television widows will begin on Sunday, January 7 at 2:30 in the afternoon. The films for family viewing will be Humphrey Bogart classics. A fee of fifty cents per person will be charged to help pay the rental for the films. If a large enough audience supports the films it may be possible to bring the price of admission down to twenty-five cents. So get ready for the Sunday films at the library, mothers, children, and perhaps even some dads, if there are any who don't look at television sports all Sunday afternoon.

Children's Room

Thinking about Christmas? We have a good selection of Christmas Books on display now. Take one home, let it add to your holiday spirit. And we still have lots of decorations to be made for the Children's Room. All the stuff you need is here just waiting to be put together to make magnificent ornaments! Come and help us put a festive look in our Children's Room.

While you are planing your Christmas holiday consider playing chess here in the Children's Room on Tuesday through Saturday mornings, December 26 - 30. Sign up now though, that way we hope you won't have to wait in line for chess boards. You don't have to be an expert and you don't have to be just learning. Come and teach or learn as the days go on.

Dr. Solomon Awarded

Science Grant

Merrimack College Associate Professor of Chemistry, Dr. Barton S. Solomon has been awarded a $10,260 Cottrell College Science Research Grant by the Research Corporation of New York to aid his work in the area of "Fluorescence Quenching and the Photophysics of Retinene."

The three year Frederick Gardner Cottrell College Science Grant is awarded to small, private undergraduate colleges to support the research of professors.

Dr. Solomon's research involves attempting to relate what is known about photochemistry to the manner in which the human eye operates. He is approaching the project from a chemist's standpoint and later hopes to incorporate his findings with biologists.

Dr. Solomon had previously been awarded a 1971 research grant of $2300 from the Research Corporation to pursue research at Merrimack during the Summer, 1971, on fluorescence quenching by benzoic acid.

During the Spring, 1972, he received a National Science Foundation Grant to participate in an interdisciplinary program in Applied Ecology at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

A member of the Merrimack College faculty since 1966, Dr. Solomon received his B.A. degree in Chemistry from Union College in 1962. He pursued his doctoral studies in Physical Chemistry and was awarded the Ph.D in 1967 from the University of New Hampshire. His doctoral thesis was entitled: Resonance Energy Transfer Studies: Dependence of Transfer Properties on the Structure of the Donor Molecule. His research on fluorescence quenching by benzoic acid was related to the continuation of his doctoral research of the past eight years.

Dr. Solomon is a member of the American Chemical Society, the Society for Applied Spectroscopy, and the Society of Sigma Xi. He has published articles on his research in physical chemistry in the Journal of Physical Chemistry and the Journal of the American Chemical Society. He is married to the former Doris Epstien. They have two children and reside in Salem, N.H.

GIFTS FOR YEAR AFTER YEAR ENJOYMENT

Furniture accents and accessories make ideal Christmas gifts because they keep on giving year after year of enjoyment. Sullivan Furniture Store at 226 Essex Street, Lawrence has an excellent collection of gift ideas from all over the world, including gifts for all members of the family and friends of all ages.

Visit Sullivan's elegant Home Planners Shoppe where you will see gift items displayed on the mantles, tables and walls as they would be in your own home. Take a tour through these six beautifully decorated rooms and make your gift selections. Miss Joan or Miss Julie offer assistance and advise if needed, but browsing is encouraged any time. Sullivan's decorating service is at your disposal at all times.

Unique and unusual gift suggestions include ginger jars and temple jars in dainty floral or oriental design; lovely jade pieces in various styles; handsome candelabras in brass; and assorted animal figurines. For holiday entertaining, Sullivan's is showing china coffee sets which include the coffee pot, sugar, creamer, and six demitasse cups and saucers. These also make lovely accents on a coffee table and are shown in oriental and traditional designs.

Scale planters are another choice gift for the home and Sullivan's has them in many styles and sizes, all displayed again in their homey room settings. And for wall decoration, be sure to see the Williamsburg reproductions. All items will be gift wrapped free.

These, of course, are just a few of the many, many gift ideas at Sullivan's, which also has all types of unusual furniture items: mirrors, magazine racks, TV tables, etc. Visit Sullivan's soon and see for yourself, 226 Essex Street, Lawrence.

Life - Saving Techniques Course Set

A life-saving techniques course developed at Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen one of the first implemented in New England will be offered soon at Northern Essex Community College in Haverhill.

The 80-hour course offers instruction and focuses on techniques for emergency personnel at the scene of an accident or in the case of a sudden illness.

Developed by Mrs. Rita Roberts, R.N., Acute Care Coordinator at Bon Secours Hospital, Mrs. Joyce Constantineau, R.N., Head Nurse in the Emergency Department, and one of her assistants, Mrs. Pauline Blaine, R.N., it offers instruction dealing with cardiopulmonary resuscitation, emergency childbirth, burns, fractures, exposure to heat and cold, the proper method of removing patients in automobile accidents, and a variety of other emergency-related topics.

Since its inception at the Hospital, the two nurse-instructors, Mrs. Constantineau and Mrs. Blaine, have graduated more than 100 Police and Fire personnel from departments in communities ranging from southern New Hampshire area to the Atlantic seacoast. Employees in one Greater Lawrence industry also took advantage of the opportunity to participate and prepare for any possible emergency.

One additional course is planned upon completion of classes currently underway. It will be offered at the Haverhill Vocational School where students will receive the same type of instruction given emergency department personnel.

In offering the course at Northern Essex Community College, the staff is recognizing the effectiveness of classes developed at Bon Secours Hospital and will utilize the study plan worked out by the hospital nurse-instructors. Its effectiveness has been tested and the results have been gratifying. "We can tell from the condition in which patients are brought to the Emergency Department, comments Mrs. Constantineau. "The attendants are putting to good use the techniques they've learned in class. The patients are benefitting and that is the idea behind the course."

When they use rifles to obtain limbs from superior pine trees, the foresters at ITT Rayonier, Inc. perform a vital ecological function. The "shot down" branches are used for grafts at company seed orchards which supply 10 million genetically improved seedlings each year for reforestation.

If you and your family are considering a CHANGE in RESIDENCE at this time - please call us for a consultation. Our competent staff is ready to be of service to you.

We particularly need a home located in the Salem Street area near Phillips Academy. At least four bedrooms are a requisite, plus a private backyard area large enough for a tennis court would be ideal.

We have another client seeking a home in Andover that would provide In-Law quarters including the extra kitchen.

If you have plans for building the Home of Your Dreams - we may possibly have the Dream Lot for you in North Andover.

School Budget

The administrators acknowledge that some portions of the budget, such as text books and scholars' supplies, will be less than 150% of the 12-month budget, since these are ordered for fall, to last the entire year. However these are almost negligible help, Seifert says, since the system has to spend far more on buses, for example, that it does on the books and scholars' supplies combined.

Moreover, salaries account for 80% of all school expenditures, and two thirds of the teacher's salary amounts must be encumbered in the January-June half of the year which comes twice in the 18-month budget.

At Tuesday night's school committee meeting, Weil used the transportation budget as a microcosm of the problems and processes the administrators have gone through in preparing the 18-month budget. He showed the committee this year's transportation budget appropriation - $300,178, including parochial school transportation.

The figure that Weil estimates for the half-year from January, 1973, to June, 1973, the remainder of this school year, is $196,700, covering 25 weeks of busing. (There are only 15 weeks of school busing each year from September until Christmas time but 25 busing weeks from January to school's end in June).

Weil's estimate for the next full academic year's transportation, July '73 to June '74, is $315,251. The business manager points out that this is a minimal 5% increase over the 1972 appropriation of $300,178, although a pupil increase is expected.

Yet because the 18-month budget contains two January-June segments, with their 25 weeks of busing, the Jan.-June '73 amount of $196,700 must be added to the '73-'74 full year of transportation, and it comes out a whopping $511,950.

Weil told the school committee that utilization of computer techniques can enable the system to cut back a bus or two, or take care of expansion without raising the transportation budget and until that is possible, a map with 6400 pins can make the school transportation more efficient on a short term basis. Superintendent Seifert remarked that until Weil came aboard, Transportation planning had been a paper and pencil operation, and more efficiency and economy could now be expected.

Committeeman Dr. Richard Katz reminded Weil that the Andover school committee's policy was "no standees" on buses, for safety reasons, though the schoolmen all doubted that this policy had been strictly followed in the past. Weil said this policy would be carried out, warned that he could then not guarantee the savings he had promised, but would try. Weil's assistant, Sam Arcidy, suggested that it was probably that it could be done, if secondary pupils were asked to walk perhaps half a mile to the most efficient bus pickup spots.

Fatality

The funeral will be Saturday at the Pitocchelli Brothers and Joseph A. Langone Jr. Funeral Home, followed by a Mass at 9 a.m. at St. Lucy's Church.

Burial will be at the Elmwood Cemetery. Calling hours are from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. today and Friday at the funeral home, 133 Lawrence St., Lawrence.

Set Job Descriptions

The new school administrative position of assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction was approved by the school committee Tuesday night, at a salary range of $20,000-$25,000.

The new assistant superintendent, when he is named, will have charge of curriculum coordination and development, and instruction, K-12. He will chair a system curriculum council, be directly responsible to the superintendent and act as the superintendent of schools in the superintendent's absence.

The assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction will also coordinate the efforts of the business manager and personnel manager, whose job descriptions were approved by the same vote. The positions of personnel manager, at $18,000-$22,000, and business manager, $13,000-$17,000 have metamorphosed from former administrative posts. Their responsibilities are being carried out by Vaughn I. Clapp, formerly assistant superintendent, and Ed Weil, who replaced Jack Berberian as supervisor of general services this fall.

Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert said he would propose formal confirmation of Clapp as personnel manager, and Weil as business manager, at the next committee meeting.

The lone vote against the approval of the three job descriptions was cast by Committeeman

William Lane, who said before the vote that he still feels the salary scale for the personnel manager is too high for the responsibilities listed in the job description. Lane was unsuccessful in his attempt to separate the job descriptions for separate action at an earlier meeting.

Dr. Seifert has earlier indicated that the new assistant superintendentship may not be filled until February, at least. Indications are that the post will be filled from within the system; if so, Seifert indicates that he would rather have the new administrator stay in his post, gradually working into the new position, than create an administrative vacuum at any of the schools by naming the new assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction immediately.

Environmental Hotline Is Established

Dr. Charles H. W. Foster, Secretary of Environmental Affairs, announced today that he is establishing an environmental hotline to answer any questions, register any complaints or make any suggestions concerning environmental reorganization.

intercept the shipment. The envelopes were seized and sent to state police laboratories for analysis.

The material analyzed proved to be marijuana and had an approximate value of $1,200 to $1,500.

The so-called "grass" was addressed to specific students at the academy.

Sgt. Parker emphasized, however, the the investigating team, in all fairness to the persons involved, had determined that much of the shipment was unsolicited.

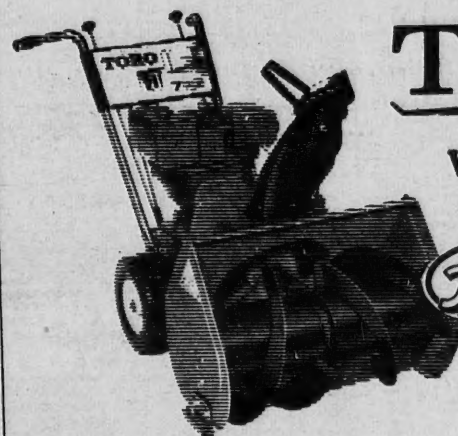

The shipment after seizure on warrants was intercepted and taken to the police station, later to the laboratory for examination.

Sgt. Parker praised the co-operation received from officials of the academy in the probe and also the assistance given by the postal inspectors.

He said the investigation into the source or sender of the marijuana is continuing as officials pursue what they feel is a substantial lead in the case.
